

Steady Increase In Farmer Pleas For U.S. Relief, Wallace Avers

Most Requests are Reported From Great Plains Area

LISTS 4 FACTORS

Agriculture Secretary
Testifies at Hearing

Washington—(AP)—Secretary Wallace told the senate unemployment committee today that pleas for federal financial assistance from farmers, particularly from the great plains region, had been "rising steadily" since July.

The cabinet officer said demands for subsistence grants averaging approximately $20 a month per family, had more than doubled rural relief spending since midsummer. The area where needs are greatest, he said, are Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas and Nebraska.

He said 108,000 rural families received direct subsistence grants in December, adding there was little likelihood that this number would decrease before the next harvest season. These were in addition to families receiving rehabilitation loans.

The agriculture secretary listed four factors as contributing to rural assistance demands:

1. An increasingly serious drought condition in certain areas of the great plains.
2. Rapid decline in farm prices.
3. The industrial recession.
4. The displacement of farm labor by agricultural mechanization.

"If present dry weather conditions continue," he said, "relief needs in the great plains area may be increased to an unpredictable but potentially very large extent."

Rainfall Below Normal
"Virtually every state in this area received less than normal precipitation during the fall of 1937. For example, in South Dakota, which has endured seven successive years of severe drought, rainfall during September, October and November was only 47 per cent of normal and this condition has not improved materially in recent weeks."

Wallace estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 agricultural laborers were thrown out of work in Iowa alone this fall due to use of mechanical corn pickers.

Wallace said the farm security administration had granted more than $56,500,000 in subsistence grants to farmers since July. In addition, more than 542,000 families received rehabilitation loans totaling $151,000,000.

Areas needing increased aid, he said, included 10 counties in northwestern Wisconsin, where he said there are now 6,800 destitute families because of drought conditions, and in the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. He said that at least 20,000 families who had migrated to these states from the great plains had not yet been able to settle themselves on a satisfactory basis.

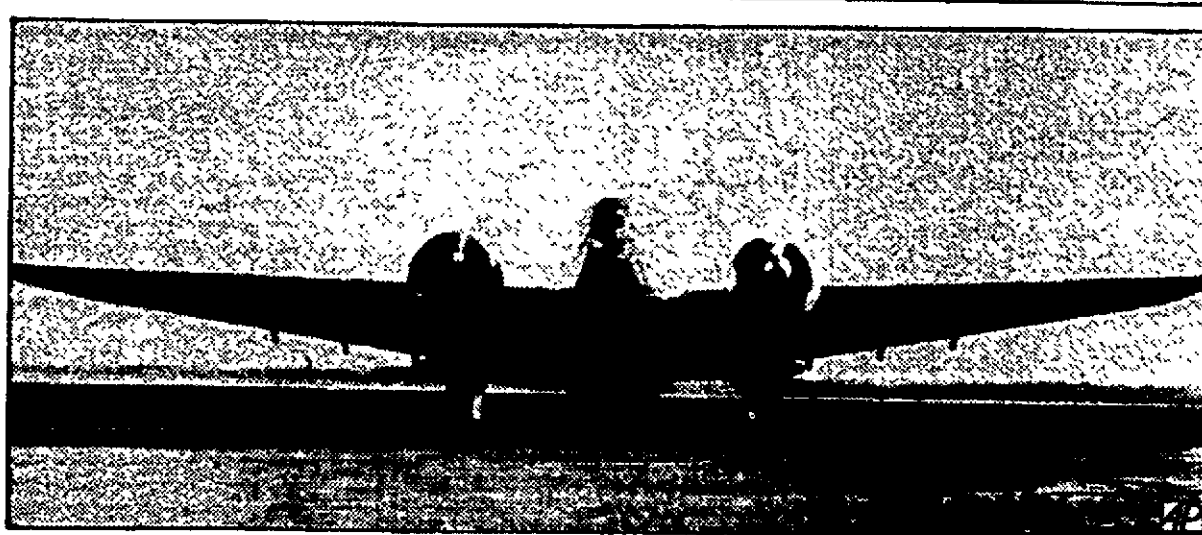

Drop in Farm Prices
"While the difficulties of these special areas are undeniably urgent," he said, "they are overshadowed by the nationwide growth of rural relief needs caused by the recent slump in farm prices. Department of agriculture economists have estimated that the 1937 production of 53 crops was 13 per cent greater than the 1929 production, and 40 per cent greater than the production of 1936, which was considerably curtailed by drought."

"The effect of this increase, in the face of declining business activity and urban purchasing power, has been a sharp drop in farm prices. Since December, 1936, they have sunk from 126 per cent of the pre-war level to 104 per cent of the pre-war level. The present level of farm prices is approximately 30 per cent below that of 1929."

"This decline has wiped out a substantial part of the gains in farm income made during the recovery period between the spring of 1933 and the spring of 1937."

"By next summer, the combined carryovers of cotton, grains and other commodities are expected to be nearly as large as the record stocks on hand in 1932 and 1933," Wallace said.

Five Industrial Leaders Invited To White House

Conference on Business
Situation to be Held
Late Today

Washington—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked five industrial chiefs to confer with him at the White House late today on the business recession.

Those invited for a 5 o'clock conference in the president's study were:

Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of the board of General Motors corporation; Ernest P. Weir, chairman of the board of the National Steel corporation; Lewis Brown, president of Johns-Manville; M. W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad; and Colby Chesler, head of the General Foods corporation.

White House officials said the meeting, largest of its kind since the president, in his message to congress, urged the corporation of business, agriculture and labor in combating the slump, would discuss the economic situation generally and how to improve it.

Mr. Roosevelt also sought the views of three private power company executives Tuesday on the possibility of expanding private utility construction. His earlier callers were Daniel C. Green of the Central Service corporation, Chicago; John Carpenter of the Texas Power and Light company, Dallas; and A. B. West of the Nevada-California Electric corporation, Riverside, Calif.

Aubrey Williams, acting works progress administrator and the president's first caller of the day, reported between 250,000 and 300,000 persons had been added to WPA rolls since Dec. 1. The total on the rolls, he said, was 1,760,000.

He added that experience shows that the "big pressure" on relief rolls usually comes about eight or nine weeks after people lose their jobs. Hence, he anticipated a peak demand for help about Feb. 1.

Suspect Held in Roberts Slaying

Milwaukee Detective Chief
Sees Solution of Mystery

Milwaukee—(AP)—A 34-year-old man, who Patrolman Harvey Daniels said he found in a compromising position with his niece, 11, was detained by police last night for questioning in connection with the murder of 11-year-old Joyce Roberts last July.

Daniels said he found the two in an automobile parked near the Lake edge at McKinley beach last night.

"Indications are we may have the Joyce Roberts slayer," Captain of Detectives Adolph Kraemer said.

Detective Lieutenant John Niederkorn said the man was partially identified as the companion of the slain Joyce Roberts by a playmate of Joyce's, Gretchen Boehmann, 12. Niederkorn quoted the girl as saying, "He did look like the man."

Police believe the Roberts girl was subjected to indignities by a man before her bruised body was thrown in Menomonee creek near Granville where it was found July 31.

Kraemer said police had been informed that the man had offered to take the girl, who had been visiting her grandmother during the day, to her home, but drove directly to the beach instead. Kraemer added that the man lives within two blocks of the Roberts home and seemed unusually conversant with the case.

Other playmates of Joyce will be called to view the suspect. He has denied the crime, the police captain said.

Prisoner Confesses

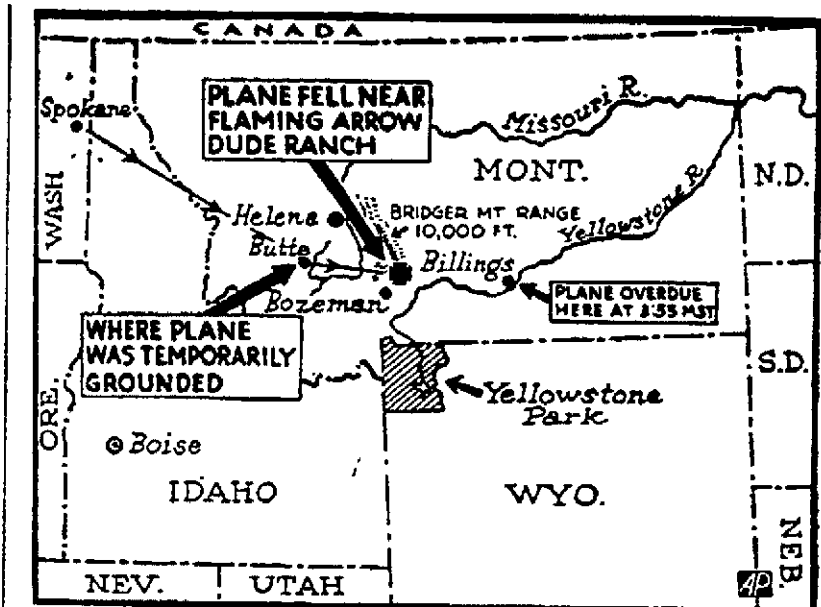

Attack on Actress

San Francisco—(AP)—Clues provided by fingerprints and his discarded overcoat led to the arrest and confession of a man charged with slugging and outraging Mrs. Mabel Hawthorne March, 50-year-old actress-singer, police said today.

Police Inspectors Harry Husted and George Engler said David Matthews, 27, auto company worker, admitted he entered Mrs. March's hotel room at 2 a. m. last Tuesday, struck her with his fist, and attacked her.

"I was drinking," he was quoted by the inspectors.

Mrs. March, former Detroit actress, is still in a comatose condition.

All passengers were killed, either by the crash or the flames which followed. The upper picture shows the plane which crashed. The Associated Press map shows where the Chicago-bound plane crashed.

10 Persons Killed as Big Plane Crashes and Burns In Montana Mountain Area

Bozeman, Mont.—(AP)—A biting blizzard threw a snowy shroud over the bodies of 10 persons killed when a Northwest Airlines plane crashed and burned in the Bridger mountains 14 miles north of here yesterday.

Piloted by Nick Mamer, who had flown more than 1,000,000 miles without injuring a passenger, the plane went into a tailspin and plunged nose-first into a small clearing. The nose was snapped off by impact with the frozen ground. Searchers found all aboard dead, but the storm forced them to give up until late today the task of bringing the bodies here. A guard was left at the crash scene.

Gallatin county officials said snowplows would open the roads when the bodies are brought down by bobsled.

Two woodcutters, C. A. Larson and Glen White were working about 300 feet from where the plane crashed but were unable to approach because of the flames. They went immediately for help and met Sheriff Lovitt I. Westlake and a party of forest rangers.

List of Dead
Northwest Airlines officials in St. Paul listed the dead as Mamer, Co-Pilot F. W. West, both of Spokane, and these eight passengers:

W. E. Borgenheimer, about 39, Basin, Mont., who had cancelled a reservation on a later plane; speed to the bedside of his mother; critically ill at Chippewa Falls, Wis.

Lloyd Levin, 33, returning to his home at Detroit, after visiting his ill mother at Butte, Mont. He was a mechanic.

Principal Entitled to Added Pay, Court Says

Madison—(AP)—The supreme court ruled today that H. W. Peterson, a Milwaukee school principal is entitled to additional salary from the school board for six years dating back from 1936.

In supporting Peterson's claim that as the school of which he was in charge grew in size he should have been promoted according to the salary groups specified for Milwaukee principals. He asked additional salary back to 1928 but the supreme court said he could recover only within the statute of limitations which extends for six years.

Peterson had been allowed $1,621.15 in circuit court for the years 1934 to 1936 because of adoption of the Ruenzel resolution.

The additional amount he may recover is in doubt. The supreme court ordered that the sum be computed.

No Prosecution Planned As Result of Ship Crash

San Francisco—(AP)—United States Attorney Frank Hennessy said today testimony at a federal navigation bureau hearing indicated the crew of the liner President Hoover should be praised rather than criticized for its conduct after the ship was wrecked on an Oriental Island.

The federal government will not prosecute any crew member for mutiny, Hennessy said.

A hearing was called in San Francisco following published charges of passengers that crew members became intoxicated, molested passengers and rioted after the Hoover went aground off Hoi-sho Island, near Formosa, Dec. 10, robberies. His eventual aim, Magnusen said, was to search for $7,500 in buried loot near the Iowa-Missouri border.

The district attorney said the Wicklund youth told his parents, the school authorities, police, and Dr. G. E. Seaman, superintendent of the Winnebago State hospital, all details of Duhm's plans. Magnusen said the police then arranged for Wicklund to proceed with Duhm and collaborate with the authorities.

Magnusen said the two youths left Oshkosh in a car not theirs Saturday night after Duhm obtained pistols by entering a sporting goods store. The district attorney said Wicklund, on a pretext, went to a filling station in Fond du Lac, their first stop, and told the attendant to inform Oshkosh police of their route.

Oshkosh—(AP)—A 16-year-old Oshkosh pastor's son was credited today by local authorities with helping solve a car theft and burglary case which resulted in the sentencing to prison on three counts of his 23-year-old acquaintance.

The boy is Wilbur Wicklund, son of the Rev. Edward R. Wicklund, of St. John's Evangelical church here, whose assistance, police say, enabled them to apprehend Roman Duhm, 23, also of Oshkosh, at Waukegan, Ill., Sunday.

Duhm yesterday pleaded guilty here to car theft, nighttime burglary, and carrying concealed weapons. Municipal Judge S. J. Luchanowski sentenced him to terms ranging from one to eight years.

District Attorney Lewis C. Magnusen said school authorities several weeks ago learned through an intercepted telephone conversation of Duhm's plans to stage a series of

Illegal Delegation of Power Invalidates WDA, Unanimous Decision of Supreme Court

Decision Means Policy Reversal, LaFollette Says

Ruling Also Kills Plan for Agricultural Adjustment Authority

Madison—(AP)—Governor LaFollette said at a press conference today that the supreme court decision invalidating the Wisconsin Development Authority was a reversal of government policy that has been in effect throughout the state's history.

"If I understand this decision correctly," he said, "it means that government by bureaucracy has become mandatory, displacing all so-called sovereign power."

The governor said the WDA decision had killed plans to set up a Wisconsin Agricultural Adjustment authority and had raised serious questions regarding the validity of state and county allotments to nearly a score quasi-public organizations.

Among such organizations are the agricultural societies which conduct county fairs. They were allotted $150,000 in state aids for each year of this fiscal biennium. Other aids totaling nearly $200,000 a year are involved.

"No attempt will be made to set up the agricultural authority which in all general machinery and purpose was patterned after the WDA," Governor LaFollette said.

WAA Awaited Ruling
Although the WAA bill was adopted by the 1937 legislature which also approved creation of the WDA, no further steps to establish the agricultural organization had been taken by the administration.

The executive office had rested its fate on the outcome of the WDA dispute.

"Unquestionably the decision of the supreme court in the WDA case is one of the most serious, important and far-reaching that has come down from the Supreme Court of Wisconsin," the governor said. "It has ramifications flowing out from it which require careful and mature consideration before anyone may be able to definitely mark their limits."

"One can only indicate that the decision already raises the most serious questions which affect all financial contributions by the state."

Crowley Will Address State Bankers' Group

Milwaukee—(AP)—Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, will discuss "The Bankers' Responsibilities" at the Wisconsin Bankers' association holds its ninth annual mid-winter meeting here Jan. 20.

With Crowley on the speaking program will be C. A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin; Clarence L. Hill, chairman of the department of agriculture and markets, Madison; and R. Dana Skinner, vice president of Townsend, Skinner and Company, New York.

Five youthful Wisconsin representatives at the national livestock congress and international livestock show in Chicago recently will be honored by the association. They are Lucille Cooper of Whitewater, Viola Nieldfield of Bangor, Leona Von Rueden of Eagle, Aya Toki of Madison, and Homer Graber of Mineral Point.

Milwaukee—(AP)—William Greenwald, state deputy fire marshal, reported yesterday fire which swept through the interior of the bar and dance hall of Vincent Lofredo on Highway 59 in the town of Brookfield was set by hand.

The fire, which caused damage estimated at $900, was discovered by Joe Pelligrino, waiter at the place, yesterday morning.

Greenwald said the fire was fed by gallon cans of kerosene connected with an oil-saturated clothes line.

High Japanese Officers and Emperor Draft 'Unshakeable Policy' in Chinese Conflict

Tokio—(AP)—The highest government and military officials of Japan in imperial conference with the emperor today drafted formally "the empire's unshakeable policy toward China."

The details of that policy and whether it contemplated a formal declaration of war against China, with whom Japan has fought in undeclared conflict for six months, were held in strictest secrecy.

It was announced semi-officially that the Japanese government would issue within a few days a manifesto clarifying its future action in China.

Await Details
Following the imperial conference, Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye reported details thereof to members of the cabinet advisory board who had waited at his residence.

War Minister General Gen Sugiyama returned to the emperor's palace in the afternoon for a separate audience, presumably linked with the imperial conference decision.

While the conference results were not known, one informant asserted that two alternatives were presented: China's surrender or continuance of the warfare.

Finance Minister Okimoku Kaya optimistically told cabinet colleagues that Japan would have no difficulties financing long-term hostilities.

World Relations
An informed official said the imperial conference discussed not only Japan's policy concerning China but also the empire's relations with other world powers.

(Formal declaration of war has been advocated by some Japanese leaders, notably Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, home minister and retired commander of the combined fleet, to facilitate a complete blockade of China's coasts and a drive to capture Canton, great metropolis of south China.)

(Such moves was almost inevitably heightened the already dangerous tension between Japan and Britain, endangering the position of Britain's colony of Hongkong.)

Fifth Imperial Conference
Today was the fifth such conference in Japan's history and the first since 1914. All the others were concerned with war, two during the Chinese-Japanese war of 1894-95 to discuss plans of campaign, the third

Gunman Killed in St. Paul Battle

Two Companions and Defective Wounded After Double Holdup

St. Paul—(AP)—A gunman was killed and two companions and a St. Paul detective wounded today in a gun battle at a shooting gallery where officers trailed the trio after a double holdup.

The dead gunman was identified as Frank L. Van Dorn, 26, St. Paul, first since Schoun, 25, St. Paul, another gunman, was in critical condition at Ancker hospital.

Dick Fortuna, 22, St. Paul, the third gunman, suffered a scalp wound and was held in the city jail. He is the brother of George Fortuna whose escape from the city jail last year precipitated a police shakeup.

Detective Ralph Merrill was in Ancker hospital with a bullet wound in the right thigh.

Merrill said Detective Louis Schultz saved him from a possible fatal injury when he knocked down a gun held by Van Dorn as the bandit fired. One bullet tore through Schultz's overcoat and another wounded Merrill.

A third detective, Thomas Shanley, escaped unhurt from the volleys fired at close range.

Police Kill Man Who Wounded 2 in Illinois

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—James A. Young, 32, a laboratory assistant for the Central Illinois Public Service company, was shot and killed by police early today after he ran amuck with shotgun and wounded a taxi driver and a detective.

Patrick Gilmore, the detective, was shot in the right hand and side when he attempted to enter the Young home where the laboratory worker had barricaded himself.

The taxi driver, Daniel Roderick, was slightly wounded in the face. Police were summoned by Mrs. Young who said she had been ordered from the house by her husband whose minority actions frightened her. Young held officers at bay by firing through the open window. Efforts to drive him from the house with tear gas proved futile, and policemen gained entrance through a window to trap him.

Warden Asks 6-Month
Leave From Duties

Waupun—(AP)—Oscar Lee, warden of the state prison here since March 1, 1934, filed a formal request yesterday for a six-month leave of absence to take effect March 1.

Warden Lee has been conducting prison business from a sick bed for the past two months. The leave would permit a second leave of six months should Lee feel it necessary.

Prior to his service at Waupun, Lee was superintendent at the reformatory at Green Bay for three years and before that superintendent of the Industrial School for Boys at Waukesha from 1917-1921.

Feb. 4, 1904, to agree on declaration of war against Russia, the fourth Aug. 15, 1914, to decide on declaration of war against Germany.

With the present conflict with China six months old, Tokio newspapers said that Admiral Suetsugu insisted upon withdrawal of recognition of the Chinese government.

The civil government, the army and the navy already have endorsed continuing the China campaign, and Premier Konoye is understood to have advocated preparations for four more years of warfare.

Byrnes Points to Steady Decline in Lynchings in U.S.

Charges Bill Before Senate
Would Cause Sectional Ill-Feeling

Washington—Senator Byrnes (D-S. C.), continuing a filibuster against the anti-lynching bill, asserted today that "the Negro has not only come into the Democratic party—but the Negro has come into control of the Democratic party."

The south "may just as well know," he said, that "it has been deserted by the Democrats of the north."

"One Negro, whose name has heretofore been mentioned in the debate, Walter White, secretary of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has ordered this bill to pass, and Mr. President, it must pass," Byrnes shouted to the senate.

Washington—(AP)—Senator Byrnes (D-S. C.), continuing the steady attack from the south of the anti-lynching bill, charged in the senate today it would "arouse ill feeling between sections."

The filibuster against the bill, going into its fifth day, drew from Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, a reiteration of his intention to hold later on the measure. The leader added, however, he had not decided definitely whether to hold night sessions.

Byrnes, taking the floor when the senate convened, asserted there "has been a steady decline in lynching for 10 years."

"Out of 130,000 people in this country," he continued, "only 8 were lynched during 1937."

A joint congressional committee, meanwhile, reported agreement on wheat provisions of the "ever-normal granary" program.

Sees "Compromise"
Senator Pope (D-Iowa), a committee member, said the wheat agreement was "a direct compromise" between the separate bills passed by the house and senate.

Under the program will aim at keeping wheat supplies equal to average annual domestic consumption.

Plan Formal Hearings In Geiger Controversy

Washington—(AP)—The house judiciary committee decided today to begin formal consideration of Attorney General Cummings' assertions that Federal Judge Ferdinand A. Geiger of Milwaukee had obstructed administration of justice.

Chairman Sumners (D-Texas) said the committee would invite representative of the justice department and the Milwaukee county and Wisconsin Bar associations to testify. Geiger will be advised of the date of their appearance, probably within two weeks.

The bar associations filed briefs with the committee last week contending Geiger was within his rights in discharging a grand jury before it completed consideration of federal charges of violation of anti-trust laws against three motor car finance companies.

Agricultural Authority Also Doomed Through Ruling

War Declaration Might Invoke U. S. Neutrality Law

Embargo Provisions Probably Would be Ordered Into Effect

Washington—(7)—If Japan formally declares war on China, the state department officials said today, it would be difficult for President Roosevelt to refrain from invoking embargo provisions of the American neutrality act.

The act bans shipments of war supplies to both belligerents whenever the president decides a state of war exists. Some observers contended its invocation would aid Japan, which has greater facilities than China for making munitions.

Officials studying the Far Eastern situation said they were encouraged by house refusal to consider the Ludlow war referendum proposal, which President Roosevelt had declared "would cripple any president in his conduct of our foreign relations."

Strengthened Foreign Policy House leaders said the 209 to 193 vote had strengthened the administration's foreign policy and at the same time augured well for any new naval construction which the president might recommend.

The most crucial point involved in the possible Japanese declaration of war on China, observers commented, lay in the blockade Japan might seek to impose against all foreign shipping in the war zone.

During December the state department licensed the export of $250,283 worth of munitions to Japan and $290,632 to China. If the neutrality act were invoked, no such purchases would be permitted in the future.

Protection For Americans In addition, the president could require that other purchases made by belligerents in this country be on a cash-and-carry basis.

Secretary Hull, reporting to the senate that there are still about 6,000 Americans in China, summed up the government's attitude as one of "primary concern over maintenance of 'orderly processes' in foreign relations."

"This interest," he said, "far transcends in importance the value of American trade with China or American investments in China. It transcends even the question of safeguarding the immediate welfare of American citizens in China."

Administration leaders in the house discussing reports that a new fleet expansion program was being submitted, expressed the opinion privately that the Ludlow vote meant the majority of house members was committed to a policy of preparedness.

Naval Program There were reports that Mr. Roosevelt would ask for about $60,000,000 for two new battleships.

Admiral Leahy, chief of naval operations, said after a White House conference yesterday that the plans under discussion contemplated new legislation.

This was taken to mean that cruisers and aircraft carriers were contemplated, since these are the only major type of vessels not authorized under existing law.

Party lines were split in the vote on the proposal of Representative Ludlow (D-Ind.). His resolution called for a constitutional amendment which would prevent congress from declaring war until authorized by a majority of the citizens voting in a national referendum. This would not apply when the United States was invaded.

Reverses House Wish The decision reversed the wishes of the house majority—218 members—who last month signed a petition for the amendment's consideration.

The National Council for Prevention of War, representing a group of organizations favoring the legislation, said in a statement last night that "the fight has just begun."

"The exhibition of presidential control of congress in peacetime shows clearly," it said, "that congress can not be counted upon to check the administration in any war crisis. It is a clear argument for the necessity of giving the people themselves the right to vote on war issues."

A world radio conference in Cairo, Egypt, in February will study the increasing interference in short wave broadcasting.

Bonds Between Rumania, France May be Weakened By Ministerial Shake-Up

BY MORGAN BEATTY

Washington—On occasion, a ministerial shift in the Balkans attracts little more interest abroad than an administration shift in Central America.

No such occasion is Rumania's latest upset.

When Octavian Goga, the poet and anti-semitic, received his portfolio as premier from hard-driving King Carol II, diplomats from Moscow to Washington picked up their ears.

It was evident things were happening in Rumania—and Rumania not only is an all-important crossroads of Europe, but it is an all-important link in the continental system that was France's diplomatic pride.

A Stepping-Stone Briefly, these were trends the experts thought they saw:

1. Rumania, was veering out of the French-sponsored Little Entente system and...

2. Moving towards a tie-up with the Rome-Berlin axis, while...

3. King Carol was assuming powers that smacked of dictatorship.

But just how much of this can really be seen? Here is the situation:

Rumania not only is a stepping stone between Europe and Asia wedged uncomfortably between the Austro-Germans on the west, the Russians on the north and the Turks on the south, but it is a

55 Seniors Place In Upper Bracket In Ability Tests

High School Students Among Top 10 Per Cent in Wisconsin

Fifty-five Appleton High school seniors were ranked among the upper 10 per cent in Wisconsin in the Henmon-Nelson native mental ability tests given at the school last month, according to a report received yesterday by H. H. Helbig, high school principal.

The tests were given through the Wisconsin Cooperative Testing program and show Appleton with 14.1 per cent of its seniors in the upper bracket which is 4.1 per cent above average. Sophomore ratings will be completed and released in February.

Following is the list of seniors whose grades were in the upper bracket in the test: Helen Aykens, James Bailey, Robert Barry, Fern Bauer, Betty Behnke, Lois Boon, Iris Boyer, Betty Brown, Margaret Bubolz, Patricia Doyle, Sansee Courtney, Leonard Dyke, Clifford Dorman, Erna Falk, Dorothy Frank, Franklin Femal, Glen Given, James Gosse.

Reelect Ziehm As President of Commercial Club

Heilig, Appleton Vocational School Head, Speaks at Hortonville

Hortonville—M. F. Ziehm was elected to his sixth consecutive term as president of the Hortonville Commercial club at the ninth annual banquet in the new community hall at Hortonville last night. Mr. Ziehm has served as president of the organization the last five years and presented his annual report at the banquet.

The program for the coming year as arranged by Mrs. J. W. Carew and Mrs. Theodore Peterson and for this first meeting "Winter Bouquets" were discussed by Mrs. A. W. Johnson and Tuberous Begonias by Mrs. Maurice Behnke. A book review on "New Garden Books" was assigned to Mrs. E. E. Browne.

On Feb. 14 at the home of Mrs. O. E. Hanson, Mrs. Will Ware will tell "How to Identify Trees in Winter"; Mrs. L. J. Patterson, "Fifty Successful Shrubs and Plants to Plant in Northern States"; Mrs. F. R. Fisher, "Best Ornamental Vines."

To Discuss Catalogs The meeting for March 14 will be at the home of Mrs. Phil Darling when "Spring Catalogs and Bulletin" will be discussed by Mrs. Ed. Ward and Mrs. Mary Hart. Mrs. A. J. Hancock will tell of "New Seeds and Plants for Trial."

April 11 at the library, roll call will be answered with the name of a flower of the month. "Raising of Vegetables" will be described by Mrs. O. E. Hanson and "New Varieties of Vegetables" by Mrs. Willys Holmes. "Gladioli" will be discussed by Mrs. Victoria Hartwright.

At the library on May 9 Mrs. A. M. Christofferson will discuss "Eradication of Ragweed" while "Noxious Weeds" will be described by Mrs. J. W. Carew and "Scrap Books" and Mrs. C. H. Crisby on the "Club Scrap Book." Mrs. F. E. Calkins will tell of "Bird Hike in May." Roll call will again be answered by a flower of the month.

Mrs. Sam Salan assisted by Mrs. Allan Scott and Mrs. Phil Darling will be in charge of a trip to "Whispering Pines" on June 13. A picnic lunch will be held at noon.

Mrs. William Holden will be hostess to the club on July 11 when Mrs. R. C. Kirby will discuss "Delphiniums" and Mrs. Salan and Miss Madsen, "Flower Arrangement." Again roll call will be answered by a flower of the month.

Annual Flower Show The annual flower show will be held at the library on Aug. 3 and 4, with Mrs. Edward Hart in charge.

"Table Setting of Dinner Tables for Special Occasions" such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, wedding, Easter, birthday, will be in charge of Mrs. Orville Peterson and Mrs. Ben Dence on Sept. 12. Several will be competing and there will be score cards for judging.

Bulls will be the subject for study on Oct. 10 at the library. Mrs. Tom Browne will discuss "Minor Bulls"; Mrs. W. McHenry, "Daffodils," and Mrs. T. Peterson, "Tulips."

The Nov. 14 meeting will be at the library when Mrs. C. Booth will discuss "Luck With House Plants"; Mrs. C. H. Truedell, "Outline of Tree Study" and the Misses Elizabeth and Agnes Johnson, "Hybrid Hemerocallis."

The Christmas party on Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. C. H. Crisby will be in charge of Mrs. Crisby, chairman assisted by Mrs. F. E. Calkins, Mrs. L. W. Johnson, Miss Helen Stedman, Miss Sena Madsen, Mrs. C. Thompkins and Mrs. Harold Peterson.

Unable to be present at the Monday meeting of the club, Mrs. E. E. Heilig is speaker.

Roland Kuckuck, Appleton, who served as toastmaster, introduced Herb Heilig, director of the vocational school at Appleton and principal speaker at the banquet. Mr. Heilig's talk was based upon the benefits people derive by living in comparatively small towns and said the depression had slowed the country down but small town folk had come to live a more simple and happier life.

He declared the small town merchant has opportunity to induce trade to his town by offering things people want at reasonable prices and said that size of a town is not an indication of its greatness. He noted that Hortonville was one of the few small towns in the valley to maintain a Boy Scout troop and suggested Hortonville's slogan should be a better, not bigger, Hortonville.

Among the 120 people present at the banquet were Jess Lathrop, town of Hortonville chairman; George Schaefer, chairman of the town of Greenville; John Bottensack, town of Dale chairman; Dr. and Mrs. W. Archer and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heuer, Dale.

Arrange Tryouts for Heiss Oratory Meet Tryouts for the Heiss Oratory contest for Appleton High school boys will be held Wednesday and Thursday at the school, according to Kenneth Edge, coach. About 23 boys have registered to compete. Five boys will be selected from the group to participate in the Heiss contest which will be held Mar. 30.

Winner of the contest will go to the Fox River Valley conference recital to be held at East Green Bay High school April 6. Each boy to compete in the conference meet will receive a gold pin. A plaque will be awarded the winner of the Heiss contest, which began about 18 years ago in memory of W. B. Heiss who died in the World war.

Concert Program Given For High School Pupils "Radio Operatic Revue," a new departure in the concert field, was presented at Appleton High school this morning as the seventh in a series of lyceum programs. Wilfred Cushing and Eileen Hutton gave the programs which included songs from light opera, "It's Life," a short comedy depicting the trials of a scenario writer also was given by the pair. The revue was presented at Roosevelt Junior High school this afternoon.

REELECTED M. F. Ziehm, above, was reelected president of the Hortonville Commercial club at the ninth annual banquet in the new community hall at Hortonville last night. Mr. Ziehm has served as president of the organization the last five years and presented his annual report at the banquet.

Police Cars Travel 62,839 Miles in Year

Squad cars and the armored car of the Appleton police department travelled 62,839 miles during 1937, according to a report to Chief of Police George T. Prim by Sergeant Carl Radtke. The police motorcycles travelled 102,422 miles during the year.

A total of 68 taxi cab drivers was examined for city driver's license during the year and 13 persons were examined for state driver's license. Sergeant Radtke gave 10 safety talks in the following municipalities, New London, Seymour, Kaukauna, Clintonville, Hortonville, Kimberly, Menasha and Shiocton.

Incendiary Fires In Forests Lead All Other Types

Caused 26 Per Cent of Conflagrations in Protected Areas in 1936

The 22,655 forest fires classed as incendiary in the United States Forest service records for 1936 showed an increase of more than 5,500 over the 5-year average, according to a bulletin received by H. C. Swanson, county agricultural agent.

Incendiarism was the greatest single cause of fire, accounting for 26 per cent of the fires on protected forests as compared with 24 per cent caused by smokers. In damage to the forests, the incendiary fires ran far ahead of fires caused by smokers, 41 per cent as compared with 10 per cent.

"Fires caused by cigarettes and matches which careless smokers toss into the under-forest are likely to be discovered by the look-out or by some cooperators," says the forest service. The incendiary, like other criminals, works in secret and usually selects a time and place which will permit the fire to make greatest headway before it is discovered.

On the protected forest areas the forest service classifies the causes of fires. In 1936 there were 14,432 fires on unprotected forest lands and only 84,853 on protected forest acreage is more than double the unprotected. The causes of fires on the protected area in 1936 were: incendiary, 26 per cent; smokers, 24 per cent; debris burners, 14 per cent; campers, 7 per cent; railroads, 4 per cent; lumbering, 2 per cent; lightning, 7 per cent. Miscellaneous causes accounted for 9 per cent, and 7 per cent of the fires were listed as of unknown cause.

Pegler Wants Question of Press Subsidy Cleared Up

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—I have a special interest in the dispute over the so-called post office subsidy to the press, particularly the newspaper section of the press as distinguished from the magazines, because this complaint was what Jim Farley had in mind that time he said that if he had a message for the public he preferred the air to print. I gave him an argument, and it turned out that Jim wanted some publicity for a deficiency between the amount which the papers pay for their second-class postal service and the amount which he claims that service costs.

Pegler

This was no compliment to the mob of government press agents who have burrowed into the hide of the body-politic in Washington, but it was no medal of honor for the press, either. Anyway, the piece has been in print three ways since then. It broke in the annual report of the post office department and was given a good ride; then Mr. Roosevelt talked it up in the press conferences, which made it practically a "must" copy, and now it is in again in the form of an answer from the postal committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

That answer has its merits, but not enough of them, because there is one point where it says that the papers can be transported and distributed by private agencies more cheaply than by the post office department. Knowing that publishers are not philanthropists by nature, I have to wonder why they don't quit using the mails and go over to the private agencies if that is so, and there is enough discrepancy left between Farley's report and the publishers' reply to call for another review of the whole case.

In Papers' Interests
To Clear Up The Matter

Certainly somebody is either misrepresenting things or using expensive account arithmetic, and it will be in the papers' own interests to clear up the matter. Otherwise, Mr. Roosevelt, Jim and Harold Ickes, who are always needing the press, will be able to lose off cracks about the newspapers' postal graft according to the administration's own figures and break the force of any honest criticism of the government.

No president in our time has been as hostile to the press as Mr. Roosevelt, although, curiously, no presidential family in our time except that of Warren Harding, who was a publisher, made as much money out of journalism while in office. It is true that Coolidge got a dollar a word for his stuff, but that was after he left the White House, whereas journalistic genius flashed in the writing Roosevelt's instant returns were in 1932, as suddenly as it hit Jess Willard when he knocked out Johnson and Dempsey when he knocked out Jess.

Louie Howe was around like a literary pack pedler as soon as Hoover admitted defeat, with essays for sale on this and that, and a smart agent with a little sporting blood in his veins might do worse right now than buy up cheap options on the literary output of the families of all those possible nominees in 1940 who are now quoted at long odds in the future book.

Upsets Theory That
Kept Press Is Servile

Jim Farley's accountants and service experts claim that a newspaper riding the mail as second-class matter at a very low price receives the same care and speed of delivery as a first-class letter under a 3-cent stamp. Newspaper men who know the circulation business claim that this isn't so. That should be easy to settle, and no amount of overhanding and whoever can justify the continuance of any rates which give the papers a free ride or a cut rate at the taxpayers' expense. There is just no argument about the fact that some small country papers do ride absolutely free in their own respective counties and even though this is only a small item in the total

IT'S ODD But It's Science

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

New York—T. Neugebauer, German scientist, has an explanation of ball lightning.

These balls of fire ranging from the size of an alarm clock to the weatherman's sounding balloon, appear occasionally during thunderstorms. Their colors range from fire to lavender. They have been photographed.

They are probably, Neugebauer says, an electrical gas. Lightning in some manner unknown breaks up a mass of air particles into electrons and positive ions. This breakup is well known in laboratories, where an electrical discharge will break a good many air particles.

But no laboratory has enough power available to produce a sufficient number of the ions and electrons to imitate a ball of lightning. Neugebauer says the electrified particles form in sufficient numbers to act like a gas.

This electrical gas ball should disappear either by collapsing or exploding. The electrical fire balls in nature do both.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—It may be that 50 years from now the movie year of 1937 will be marked by film historians principally because it brought to the screen a picture called "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

It would not amaze me if those historians put down "Snow White" as new fields it opens to what has been called, for want of a better word, the "animated cartoon."

For present purposes, technical and historical significance aside, Walt Disney's first feature length production rates as the Movie of the Month on its merits as entertainment, art, universal appeal and whatever else you may ask in a movie.

Statistics Come To Life
Full of staggering statistics on the work involved—250,000 drawings in the completed film—this department was only faintly hopeful that the human characters in the old fairy tale from Grimm would not seem too much like walking paper dolls.

And before the picture was over we could understand why strong men, including Jimmy (Is Zat So?) Gleason behind us, snuffed at the scene where the dwarfs keep vigil at the glass casket of the sleeping Snow White.

The picture runs an hour and a half. In that period is packed so much Disney charm and humor and ingenuity that only once, to my reckoning, is there a perceptible loss of pace. If we must quibble, it may be pointed out that the dwarfs take a bit too long in discovering who has moved into their woodland home.

Dwarfs Are Stars
It must be remarked, also, that the "straight" human characters—Snow White and Prince Charming especially—do not always have the sharply drawn expressiveness for which Disney's animals are famous. Until you become accustomed to her, the heroine seems to "waver" excessively even for a willowy beauty.

But after a while you perceive that the lady combines in her small person the finer qualities of Clara Bow, Ginger Rogers and Shirley Temple, although she has more elusive appeal than any of these charmers. The wicked queen is a heavy of the first rank; Prince Charming, like many a leading man, is a subordinate but pleasing character.

The dwarfs—here are picture-stealers to end all picture-stealing! Dopey is now this department's favorite actor.
And Beauty, Too
Many of the backgrounds, uniformly beautiful, are as real—although idealized—as though photographed from life, added as they are by superb color and composition and new values in perspective attained through the "multiplane camera," a Disney studio development.

There are so many memorable scenes and sequences that it is difficult to cite any as outstanding, but the dance of Snow White and the dwarfs is the finest example of lyrical motion on the screen in this department's experience. When the animals and birds help Snow White with her housecleaning, you probably will think it can't be topped—until you see the birds lay the icing on her cake.
The whole film is full of Disney imagination, whimsy, enchantment,—which, after all, is saying everything there is to say.

Begin Toxoid Program In Schools Wednesday

The diphtheria toxoid program for pupils of the kindergarten, first and second grades of Appleton's public and parochial schools will begin at 8:30 Wednesday morning at Edison grade school, according to Miss Mary Orison, school nurse. Pre-school children will be given the toxoid if they are brought to the school by their parents Wednesday morning. The toxoid will be given Tuesday, Jan. 18 at Jefferson and St. Mary schools and Wednesday, Jan. 19, at Franklin and St. Theresa schools.

CHECK THAT COLD IN THE DRY STAGE!

It's Much Easier Stopped in the First or Dry Stage Than in the Second or Third Stage!

A cold ordinarily goes through three stages.
(1) The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours.
(2) The Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days.
(3) The Mucous Secretion Stage. A cold is twice as easy to stop in the first stage as in the second or third.
In fact, to let a cold run beyond the first stage may be to invite trouble.

The Thing to Take!
The preparation you want to take for all colds—any cold—is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets).
Bromo Quinine tablets are expressly a cold treatment! They are not a "cure-all." They are made for colds and nothing else.
Bromo Quinine tablets are internal treatment and a cold is an internal infection!

4 Effects in One!
Bromo Quinine tablets do four important things in the treatment of a cold.

First, they open the bowels.
Second, they check the infection in the system.
Third, they relieve the headache and fever.
Fourth, they tone the system and help fortify against further attack.
These four effects are what you want in a cold medicine.

Your Safe Bet!
Bromo Quinine tablets may be taken with confidence. They have been on the market for over 40 years and are the world's largest selling cold tablet.

Bromo Quinine tablets come in 35c and 60c sizes. The 60c size is the better "buy." Almost 20 per cent more for your money.

When you ask for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets), insist upon getting what you ask for. It's your money you're spending!

Aid to Community Should be Lions Aim, Mackey Says

District Governor Speaks At Meeting of Appleton Club

Service to the community and not social advantages should be the aim in joining a Lions club, E. W. Mackey, Manitowish, district governor, told members of the Appleton Lions club at a noon meeting yesterday in the Conway hotel.

"I joined for social advantages and soon found out that there was a lot more than that to the club," Mackey said. "There is too great an opportunity to help the community to be satisfied with just good times."

He described the Lions club as the "fastest growing service club in the United States," pointing out that it had advanced from its formation stage 20 years ago to an organization of 2,840 units claiming 100,000 members.

Mackey presented buttons and literature to two new members taken into the Appleton club yesterday, Emmerly Greunke and Dr. Ray Perschke.

The district governor urged the Appleton club to have a good representation at the district convention at Marshfield in the spring and to begin planning to send a delegate to the international convention at Oakland, Calif., next summer.

Government Holds Post Office for New Bidders

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., received a telegram from Congressmen George J. Schneider today advising that the old post office building on Oneida street will be held for disposition until new bidders manifest interest in the building.

The structure was offered for sale the second time Monday but no bids were received by the procurement division of the treasury department. First bids brought a $15,000 offer which was rejected as too low. Purchase of the building was considered at one time by the city.

It Is Said--

That Snowball, Spitz dog owned by E. A. Deltman, 516 N. Balmere street, trots over to Harris street every morning about 8 o'clock so he can greet Edward J. Witt, mail carrier.

It seems that Witt was delivering mail at the Deltman home when Snowball, now about three years old, was a puppy. A liking grew up between the two and Witt's appearance each day became an event for the dog.

Then Witt's route was changed and he no longer came down the street in front of the Deltman home. But since his friend couldn't come to see him, Snowball decided he could take a morning walk and meet the mail carrier in his new neighborhood. So Snowball and Mr. Witt are still having their daily get-togethers.

First word of the disaster came to the forest service from Elmer Johnson, a rancher who said he saw a plane fall near the flaming Arrow Dude ranch. Sheriff Westlake and forest rangers started for the area on the basis of this report.

Chippewa Falls, Wis. (P)—The mother of W. E. Borgenheimer, of Basin, Mont., to whose bedside he was flying when the plane in which he was a passenger crashed yesterday, was still alive today. She was in a critical condition, however, and was not informed of her son's death.

of Peiping, set off the present conflict on July 7.

Japan's desire for economic advantages in North China, the Japanese stand against communism, and asserted anti-Japanese demonstrations by Chinese were among basic causes.

Shanghai (AP)—The Japanese army spokesman announced enigmatically today that Japanese forces were "prepared for the next operation if necessary."

He gave no hint of the objective of the "next operation" or of the conditions implied by "if necessary."

(The spokesman's statement was made while an imperial conference met with Emperor Hirohito at Tokyo to decide Japan's policy in China.)

China waterfronts, the spokesman said, were quiet. Japanese planes rained bombs on the Hankow airfield and three newly discovered Chinese airfields in the interior. Japanese forces in Shantung province pushed westward from Tsingtau, which they occupied without resistance yesterday, and southward toward the Lungkai railway in a drive to trap thousands of Chinese troops.

(On China's southern coast, a Japanese cruiser and destroyer exchanged shells with Chinese Boca Tigris forts guarding the river approach to Canton, the southern metropolis.)

(The destroyer retired, apparently hit, after attempting to land a boatload of marines on Sampoan island. Four British-owned river vessels ran the gauntlet of shellfire to safety.)

(A Japanese push against South China to choke the flow of war materials from the British crown colony of Hong Kong to Canton and thence to Hankow has been expected for several weeks.)

Town of Preble Annexation Move Is Held Invalid

Some Signatures on Petition Illegal, Supreme Court Rules

Madison (AP)—Proceedings for annexation of a part of the town of Preble, Brown county, to the city of Green Bay were ruled invalid today by the supreme court on the ground that some signature on the annexation petition were illegal.

The opinion by Justice Fairchild reversed the decision of Circuit Judge Graess, and remanded the case to the lower court with instructions to restrain further proceedings on the petition.

Residents of the town who objected to annexation appealed on the ground that some signatures were obtained by consent, and were not affixed by the persons designated. Upholding this argument, the high court ruled "there is no room for application of the rule permitting a signing in any other way than by the elector's proper handwriting if he is able to write."

Residents of the town of Preble who favored annexation circulated petitions in 1936 to have the city take over part of the town.

Fought Annexation

Another group of residents, headed by Joseph De Bauche, opposed annexation and voted when the petitions were presented to the city council.

However, the council voted 12 to 9 to annex part of the town and the objectors brought suit before Circuit Judge Henry Graess to restrain the proceedings.

They charged that the petitions included persons, some identified as members of resort areas, who were not qualified electors of the town.

Judge Graess tried the case without a jury. The name of 13 signers were struck from the petition, leaving 154 names recognized by the court. Judge Graess ruled there were 288 qualified electors in the district and that only 150, or four less than the number of recognized signers, were needed for a majority.

Among the 154 were 13 residents who did not sign the petition personally. Their signatures were challenged as being invalid. Judge Graess held that while they did not sign personally, their names were attached to the petition with their knowledge and consent and therefore were legal.

The objectors appealed to the supreme court.

DEATHS

Reelect Petersen Head of Cemetery Group at Meeting

Harwood Is Vice President; Koffend, Secretary-Treasurer

Fred Peterson was reelected president of the Appleton Cemetery association at the annual meeting held last night. Other officers reelected are F. J. Harwood, vice president, and Joseph Koffend, Jr., secretary-treasurer. Earl Ballard was reappointed superintendent.

Trustees reelected for 3-year terms are Mr. Petersen, Mr. Harwood, and Charles L. Marston. Other trustees of the association are Charles Hagen, William A. Fannon, G. E. Buchner, Robert C. Schmidt, Albert Voecks, and Mr. Koffend.

The association was created in 1871 by a special act of the legislature. More than 10,000 interments have been made in Riverside cemetery. During 1937, 140 interments were made. Mr. Koffend, the secretary-treasurer, reported last night's meeting that 1,500 lots are still available. Two hundred and fifty lots are available in the section where monuments are not used.

Beloit Man Chosen

Zor Shrine Temple Head at Madison

Madison (AP)—Benjamin Chilson, Beloit, was elected potentate of Zor Shrine temple, Masonic organization, succeeding Harry L. Geisler, Madison, at a district meeting last night.

Other new officers are: Fred Finn, Madison, chief rabban; Dr. Gustave N. Cohen, Superior, assistant rabban; Willard R. Denu, Madison, high priest and prophet; Frank S. Tatham, La Crosse, oriental guide; Robert Johnson and George Extrom, Madison, trustees.

Normal T. Gill, Madison, was reelected treasurer, and W. L. Millar was reelected recorder. All elections are for one year, except the trustees, who serve two years.

Chilson will head the new imperial council which will represent Zor temple at the 1938 imperial council session at Los Angeles, Calif., next June. Others on the council are Geisler, Finn, and Edward M. Michelson, Madison.

Zor temple includes chapters in La Crosse, Janesville, Beloit, Wausau, Ft. Atkinson, and other cities.

et al. it was announced today at Madison. The commission had allowed partial compensation to Petersen for the accidental death of his son, Willard, who was killed when an Olson company truck he was driving tipped over on March 5, 1935.

The supreme court announced decisions today in 40 cases, 25 of which were affirmed.

Invalid Development Authority Act Basis of Proposed Power Program

Madison (AP)—The Wisconsin Development Authority, ruled invalid today by the state supreme court, was the vehicle for the LaFollette administration's proposed state power program.

While its powers were so broad that it could engage in the actual purchase and operation of publicly owned utility plants, Governor LaFollette maintained its primary objective was to assist municipalities in utility acquisition cases and promote the federal rural electrification program.

The WDA was formed last spring with the filing of incorporation papers with the secretary of state by a group of citizens, including persons closely allied with Governor LaFollette. The executive office assisted in the incorporation. The WDA was a private, non-stock, non-profit organization.

Theory of Bills

After it was incorporated the administration introduced bills in both houses of the legislature to appropriate funds to the agency and define its powers. The bills were constructed on the theory that while the state itself could not engage in utility work it could appropriate money to a private arm of the government, for "educational work."

The bills finally passed was fathered by Senator Roland E. Kannerberg (P), Wausau. It allowed the WDA $150,000 for two years.

The incorporators then met, elected Assemblyman Charles B. Perry (R), Wauwatosa, as president and chose directors. The directors set up an office staff which went to work, but was stopped by court action with the presentation of its first bills for payment.

Selection of a general manager to supervise the corporation had been held in abeyance pending disposition of the case.

Examine Teeth of 3rd Grade Pupils

School Nurses Direct Clinic Sponsored by Red Cross

Dental work for pupils of Appleton public and parochial schools was started yesterday with examination of seven third grade children under the direction of Miss Mary Orblison and Miss Lina Johnson, school nurses.

The program is being sponsored by the Outagamie county chapter of the American Red Cross, which donated $400 for the work, in cooperation with the Appleton Dentists association.

Examination of all third grade pupils of both the public and parochial school systems is the objective of the clinic. Third grade pupils were chosen because it is believed that the third grade period is the time when teeth begin to deteriorate and should have attention.

Children who need dental work and cannot pay for it will be directed to dentists designated by the association and bills will be paid from the Red Cross fund. Parents who can afford to pay for dental work will be notified if their children's teeth need repair.

Award Coal Contracts

For County Garages

E. H. Buchman, Hortonville, was awarded a contract for furnishing the year's supply of coal at the Hortonville and Seymour county garages, and Van Dyck Coal company the supply for the main county garage by the highway committee yesterday at the courthouse. Five bids were considered. Buchman's bid was $7.50 per ton and Van Dyck's $7.20 per ton. Bills allowed included labor, $792.50; new machinery, including two trucks and two plows, $10,896.90; materials, $4,568.98; county share of Kimberly, bridge maintenance $792.63; snow fence $812.17; and rights-of-way $395.

Snowstorm Sweeps City and Vicinity

Thermometer at 32 Today, Highest in Week; Colder Tomorrow

A heavy snowfall, expected to continue tonight and tomorrow, descended on the city and vicinity today. As the flakes drifted down, the temperature moved up and stood at 32 degrees at 1:30 this afternoon, the highest mark in a week.

The snow will be particularly abundant in this area, the weatherman says, and the mercury will return to the zero zone tomorrow.

For the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, the warmest reading was 27 above and coldest three above, according to records at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company plant.

Miami, Fla., was comfortable in 74 degrees yesterday. South St. Marie, Mich., reported four degrees above, lowest in the nation.

Under The Capitol Dome

By John Wyngaard
Post-Crescent Staff Correspondent

Madison—Not the least of the subjects which are currently being discussed in state capital political circles is the possibility that Adjutant General Ralph M. Immell, head of the Wisconsin National Guard, is being groomed by Governor Phil LaFollette to succeed him in the governor's chair.

Because of his long and intimate association with the Progressive leaders, particularly the LaFollettes and the late Governor and Senator John Blaine, Immell for years has been regarded as a candidate for high office some time or other. Today, however, that long-discussed probability seems to be approaching reality, in the opinion of experienced observers of doings at the capitol. Lately it has become ever more apparent that the general is working closely with the governor, assisting him privately, appearing for him publicly, in Wisconsin and on official business at Washington.

The Christmas Cards
When General Immell at Christmas time sent out thousands of greeting cards all over the state, supposedly with the use of official Progressive mailing lists, his candidacy became big news to capital newspaper editors.

Just when Wisconsin's chief military officer will change from his official uniform to the garb of a stump-speaking Progressive politician, is not yet known. Some say it will be this year, and that the governor will make a run for the United States senate. Others hold that the governor will choose another term in his present office, meanwhile grooming Immell as a successor, building him up within the party machine.

Biographical Notes
General Immell's career reads like an amazing political success story. Now 43 years of age, he has been adjutant general since 1923, when Governor John Blaine surprised Wisconsin and the nation by appointing him to that office, and much to the chagrin of older men in the service. At that time he made news all over the country as the "boy general" and for a time there was serious discussion about his qualifications for the office. At another time Governor Fred Zimmerman considered removing him because at the time of his selection he was not a member of the National Guard.

Attending law school with Philip F. LaFollette at the University of Wisconsin, after receiving his degree he entered the inner circle of the Blaine contingent in Progressive party politics, with the help of his father, a prominent western Wisconsin party leader, and a former room-mate, Lawrence Brody, who was Governor Blaine's secretary and advisor.

When Governor LaFollette began running things in the capitol, Immell again became prominent in capitol politics. He became a member of the important conservation commission, and served as its director. In 1933, despite the howls of the Wisconsin Democrats, President Roosevelt on the advice of Governor LaFollette made him director in chief of federal work relief projects in the state, doubly important because of its patronage possibilities.

Then came a quiet period, only to be followed in the last six or eight months by a growing importance in the inner councils of the executive office and Governor LaFollette's favorites.

One-Sided Feud
Although Theodore Dammann, secretary of state, appears not to notice it, Senator John E. Cashman, the legislature's chief Progressive insurgent, has in no way let up in his fight against him.

The Denmark senator has taken to writing statements to capital newspapers, condemning the veteran secretary of state for autocratic tendencies in the administration of his office, and recalling Dammann's opposition to Cashman's ill-fated drivers' license bill in the last session of the legislature.

The occasion for Cashman's recent outbursts was Dammann's refusal to audit salary restorations for state university employees without a court order. Cashman had sponsored a bill ordering restoration of salary cuts suffered by lower bracket employees at the state school a few years ago. When the regents authorized the repayment, Dammann refused to disburse the funds without being directed by a court of competent jurisdiction. The case went to Alvin C. Reis of the Dane county circuit court who upheld the law. Now, says Cashman, Reis has proved that he is a great judge, while Dammann is a puny state officer, disregarding the plain mandate of the legislature.

while occupying himself in building up a political machine through an ineffective drivers' license statute.

The Rumors Fly
At this season of the year one of the main jobs of capital city newspaper correspondents consists of chasing down reports that Mr. So and So is going to be a candidate for this or that office come November.

The latest of these rumors, which may probably be taken with the proverbial grain of salt, concern white-haired, eloquent Daniel Grady of Portage, liberal Democrat, and famous dissenter on the University of Wisconsin board of regents, and Senator Phil Nelson of Maple, who is likely to be read out of his Republican party home, and who is none too popular with a big element of the Progressive machine.

However, it is said, Grady will ask for the Democratic nomination for the governorship, while Nelson will come out for lieutenant governor as a Progressive.

What's In A Name
Nelson is supposed to have taken a tip from the experience of Henry Gunderson, who emerged from the obscurity of a Columbia county law practice to the lieutenant governorship with the help of his Norwegian name. Nelson also observed that after serving a few months, Gunderson landed in a $3,000 capitol seat as tax commissioner by threatening to seek promotion.

The speculation on Nelson arises out of the certainty that his political career in his northwestern district is about finished. His Republican constituents frowned on his alliance with the LaFollette forces in the senate last year, while influential Progressives harbored Governor LaFollette with angry protests and petitions when Nelson was rewarded with a $3,600 state job immediately after adjournment.

Credit Union to Meet Friday at Kimberly

Kimberly—Cornelius Crowe, treasurer of the Kimberly Credit Union, announced that the annual meeting of the organization will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the clubhouse. Election of officers also will take place.

Gustave Keller, Appleton, was the principal speaker at the third annual booster meeting of the Holy Name society of the Holy Name church Sunday evening at the clubhouse. The subject was, "Holy Name Society Is a Builder." The Rev. C. V. Vanden Borne gave the opening address, and J. T. Doerflinger, president of the organization, Clarence De Bruin, president of the Holy Name society, was toastmaster. Karl Haugen, Appleton, gave a talk on Alaska which was followed by motion pictures that he took while in that country.

Chief of Police John Bernardy said Monday that dog taxes should be paid to the village treasurer, Harry Van Himbergen at the bank and not to him. During the last week many dog owners have come to the chief with their taxes. Dog taxes, like property taxes, become delinquent after Feb. 28.

George Gerritts, superintendent of the statistical and laboratory departments of the Kimberly mill, submitted to a major operation at St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton, Monday.

Build Clock Shop as Part of School Work

Miss Anita Huebner's second grade class at Jefferson school has started work on a clock shop. The project will represent part of the work on a study of clocks of different countries being made by pupils. The clock shop is being reconstructed from a toy shop built by pupils before Christmas.

Murder mystery stories to the contrary, most deaths from poison are accidental. The main cause is mistaking poison for harmless drugs in the medicine closet.

WHY UDGA TABLETS CURB EXCESS ACID DISTRESS OF STOMACH ULCERS

If your stomach pain is accompanied by GAS, heartburn, belching, bloating, burning, INDIGESTION, nausea, etc., don't take baking soda, dangerous drugs or half-way measures, but follow the advice of the thousands of former acid-stomach sufferers who recommend UDGA Tablets to help neutralize excess stomach acids. UDGA Tablets, based on a physician's successful prescription, work fast to bring relief from excess acid stomach distress. Week's treatment supply only $1 on iron-clad guarantee of refund or money back! Get UDGA and relief or get your money back. Recommended by Voigt's Drug Store, Ford-Hopkins and all good drug stores.

Plan Quarterly Church Meeting District Superintendent to Address Conference At Black Creek

Black Creek—The quarterly conference will be held Friday evening at the Methodist church. The Rev. I. A. Schlagenhauf of Appleton, district superintendent, will be the speaker.

The Homemakers' club of the town of Cicero will hold a meeting at 1:30 Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Jarchow. There will be a study on knitting and crocheting.

The Parent-Teachers' association of the village school, will hold a meeting at 7:45 Tuesday evening. The business meeting will follow the program of which L. F. Mory is chairman.

The school team played two games at Shiocton Saturday afternoon, winning both games. The scores were 28 to 4 and 8 to 0.

Mr. and Mrs. George Estey of Appleton, were dinner and supper guests Sunday of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Laird.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Kurtz and Mr. and Mrs. Anton Traxler spent Sunday afternoon and evening at the Delmare Kurtz home at Advance.

Library Circulation Hits All-Time High During 1937

Circulation at the Appleton Public library reached an all-time high during 1937 when 231,501 books were lent to borrowers, according to the annual report compiled by Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas, librarian. Highest previous circulation was 215,366 books, in 1934, while 195-749 books were circulated in 1936.

The high circulation figure was reached despite the fact the library was unable to carry on full service during the period of remodeling, completed Mar. 30. An increase of 24 per cent was noted in the adult department in non-fiction volumes issued while there was less than 5 per cent increase in fiction circulation.

The increase in the children's section was shown in the number of books issued to the schools including public, parochial and county. All schools get books directly from the library. City schools collect and distribute books in a truck while parochial and county schools depend on visits to the library to get books.

1,783 Books Added
Volumes added in the adult department during the year numbered 1,783 while 823 books were withdrawn from circulation making the total owned by the library 28,333 at the end of the year. Of the total 1,632 were purchased, 72 were acquired by rental and 79 were donated.

In the children's department, 1,552 books were added to the collection and 1,198 were withdrawn making the total at the end of the year 10,191 books. The total number of books in the collection Dec. 31 was 38,524.

Borrowers registered in the adult department during the year numbered 2,733 while in the children's department 810 were registered. In both departments, 2,944 cards were withdrawn making the total at the end of the year 13,231 against 12,532 at the beginning of 1937.

During the year, 31,555 non-fiction books were circulated and 74,562 fiction books were lent in the adult section. Rental books circulated numbered 867, foreign books, 670, vocational school, 27 and Wisconsin Telephone company, 53. Volumes circulated in the children's section numbered 123,725.

Reference questions answered by librarians during the year numbered 4,319 against 2,740 questions in 1936, almost double. A total of 298 clippings were circulated. Pictures circulated in the adult department numbered 713 and in the children's section, 6,492.

Welfare Department to Get Oranges for Needy

A shipment of 94 boxes of oranges was expected today by the county public welfare department from the government surplus commodities department. The oranges will be distributed to relief clients in Outagamie county this month.

Struzinski Again Church President

Carl Borchardt Succeeds E. J. Sader as Secretary at Fremont

Fremont—At the annual meeting of St. Paul's Evangelical church of Sunday afternoon William Struzinski was reelected president and Carl Borchardt was elected secretary, succeeding E. J. Sader, who resigned after holding that office for 23 consecutive years. Other officers of the congregation also were re-named. They are Walter Marquardt, William Struzinski and William Kramer, trustees; Frank Kramer, William Struzinski and Arno Schuesser, elders. Miss Freda Zuehlke was appointed organist. A number of persons were admitted to the church. Fifty-two members attended the meeting. The monthly meeting of the Fremont Conservation league will be held Thursday evening in the village hall auditorium. Important matters will be discussed, including the date of the opening of the spring fishing season on the Wolf river here. Following the meeting films of motion pictures of the "White Tail Deer," and the scenery of Wolf, Flambeau and Brule rivers will be shown.

The volunteer fire department was summoned at 8 o'clock Monday morning to the local state graded school to extinguish a blaze which had started in the coal air return, apparently by a spark from the chimney. The fire which was brought under control after a portion of a wall was chopped away in the furnace room was extinguished with chemicals. Little damage resulted.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sasse entertained 20 relatives and neighbors Friday evening, the eleventh anniversary of their marriage.

A card party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lark Lovejoy. Three tables of five hundred were in play. The bunco club will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. Carrie Springer.

Mrs. William Behnke who became ill suddenly at her home Saturday afternoon, was rushed to the Community hospital New London where she submitted to an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neuschaefer, who have spent the last ten months in Portland, Ore., have returned to Fremont.

W. S. Patterson Co. announces Change In Business Policy

After January 15th, 1938, we can no longer accept orders for PLUMBING AND HEATING INSTALLATIONS, or any repair work in connection with these installations.

We expect to keep our present organization complete with the exception of the mechanics employed by the contracting department.

Our efforts will be devoted entirely to the sale of materials and to engineering problems in connection with these sales.

The benefits of the knowledge and experience gained in fifty four years of contracting will be given FREE to our customers to help them with their problems.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to the many friends who have made our business a success.

New laws and changing conditions have forced us to take this step and we have done so in order to be in a better position to supply our wholesale trade.

The loudest "I do" a bride ever spoke!

Even after such throat-taxing scenes, ANN SOTHERN finds Luckies gentle on her throat..

1. "IN 'SHE'S GOT EVERYTHING', my new RKO-Radio picture," says Ann Sothern, "one scene particularly appealed to me—where the girl gets married on a jolting truck... Well, that scene turned out to be a knockout. But, for me, as an actress...

2. "IT WAS A KNOCKOUT in a different sense! Imagine shouting your 'I do's' above the noise of a truck... and imagine going through such a scene not once, but 30 different times! Yet, even after this unusual throat strain I found that...

3. "I STILL ENJOYED MY LUCKIES! They're always gentle on my throat. And others at RKO agree—Barbara Stanwyck and Herbert Marshall, for example." (Reason: the exclusive "Toasting" process takes out certain throat irritants found in all tobacco.)

4. "AS REGARDS TOBACCO... The flavor of Luckies has always appealed to me so much, I concluded they must be made of better tobacco. So I was interested to read that Luckies are the favorite with the tobacco experts themselves."

5. AUCTIONEERS, BUYERS AND WAREHOUSEMEN know tobacco! So here's a fact that speaks volumes... Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes combined. With men who know tobacco best... it's Luckies 2 to 1.

Child Defiant When He Feels Nobody Loves Him

BY ANGELO PATRI

Sounds of battle came from the children's corner. Loud shouts, thumps, screams and sobs told the listening air that Brother was on the rampage. Granny opened the door a crack and peeked in.

"Come on in, Granny," said Sister, "Brother is being naughty."

"That's too bad," said Grandma, impersonally, looking out of the window and seeing Brother over her shoulder.

"Yes, he is very naughty, I'm good." Here Brother almost burst with rage and let out a yell that would have made a comanche envious.

"Indeed," said Granny, still gazing far away. "Indeed."

"When Mother told him to pick up his things he wouldn't do it, I did it for him. So I'm allowed to set the table. That's because I'm good. I'm always good and Brother is always naughty. Isn't that funny, Granny?"

"M-m-m," said Granny.

Brother stamped and howled. "You are not so good. You are not good. You're mean as mean can be, that's what you are."

"Naughty Brother," said the saintly Sister, smiling compassionately upon him. Brother charged toward her, head down.

"There, there, Brother, I was just coming for you, I've got something to show you in my room. Something you never saw in all your life before. You come along and look."

For an instant Brother's rage struggled with his longing for solace and support. Then he put his hand in Granny's and went, still sobbing, down the hall.

"I know you'll like him. He is for you. Your Mother bought him for you and sent me to bring you to look at him. His name is Rowdy."

"Granny, is it a dog? Is it mine? A real live dog? It isn't for Sister, is it?"

"No. Your mother bought him for you. Here she is holding him for you. Go hug them both."

Sister had been assuming a holier-than-thou attitude for some weeks back. Mother had found it hard to cope with, for goodness cannot be denied, even when it is ostentatious and bitter in its heart. Brother had begun to feel that nobody loved him, that he was alone to fight the world. Mother and Father and the dog were their solution. If we give him what he wants so much, if he has someone he knows loves him as Rowdy will do, he can

Shudders at Opening Bid Of Player

BY ELY CULBERTSON

Yesterday I announced that there would be no material changes in and no additions to the Culbertson System for 1938. I explained that asking bids would be relegated to the background, not because of any technical shortcoming (on the contrary, from a technical point of view, the bids are excellent), but because they have not "clicked" with the psychology of the average player.

The same may be said for the two-way three bid. Actually, the greatest objection found to this conventional bid was its name, which sounded highly complicated. Since asking bids no longer are a basic part of the Culbertson System, they cannot be part of the continuation bidding after an opening three bid. The three bid, based on a long and solid, or almost solid, trump suit, still is very much "in." But don't call it a "two-way three bid" unless you want to frighten your partner to death!

The three bid I recommend has the same requirements, a good trump suit with at least seven winners in the hand, and perhaps nine or ten, but the responses are logical instead of artificial.

A suit response to a major suit three bid still must be construed as a strong hand with at least two and one-half honor tricks. The suit in which the response is made certainly should be as good as A Q x x or K Q x x for, otherwise, why show the suit?

Instead of using asking bids as continuation bidding after an opening three bid, the four-five no-trump convention and direct slam tries should be used exactly as when the bidding has been opened with a one bid.

The bidding:

South West North East

2 no trump Pass 3 no trump Pass

South's two no trump was something to shudder at. One club, of course, was the correct opening bid. West opened the heart queen, and declarer held up the ace, thus proving that his play was no better than his bidding. West, who could, of course, count that the ace now was the only outstanding heart, saw that it would be pointless to continue with hearts. Rather than besiege an impregnable position, West shifted to the diamond device, and from that point on declarer was in trouble.

East won with the ace, and returned the four. Now declarer did not know what to do. His club suit was not yet established, he did not know which defender had a club stopper, nor which of them had four diamonds. As the cards actually lay he could have salvaged his contract by putting up the diamond king and then clearing the club suit, this because West's diamond queen then would be blank. But it might be fatal to win the second diamond. The successful play might be to play East for only three diamonds and the club stopper.

The point is that, due to declarer's silly hold-up at the first trick (after East's heart nine drop, surely declarer had nothing to fear from the heart suit) he had put himself in a position in which it was necessary to guess the diamond situation exactly. As it happened, he guessed wrong and played the jack to second diamond dead. The queen won, and a diamond return established East's long diamond. When East took the lead with his club stopper, he could cash this diamond for the setting trick.

Child Defiant When He Feels Nobody Loves Him

BY ANGELO PATRI

Sounds of battle came from the children's corner. Loud shouts, thumps, screams and sobs told the listening air that Brother was on the rampage. Granny opened the door a crack and peeked in.

"Come on in, Granny," said Sister, "Brother is being naughty."

"That's too bad," said Grandma, impersonally, looking out of the window and seeing Brother over her shoulder.

"Yes, he is very naughty, I'm good." Here Brother almost burst with rage and let out a yell that would have made a comanche envious.

"Indeed," said Granny, still gazing far away. "Indeed."

"When Mother told him to pick up his things he wouldn't do it, I did it for him. So I'm allowed to set the table. That's because I'm good. I'm always good and Brother is always naughty. Isn't that funny, Granny?"

"M-m-m," said Granny.

Brother stamped and howled. "You are not so good. You are not good. You're mean as mean can be, that's what you are."

"Naughty Brother," said the saintly Sister, smiling compassionately upon him. Brother charged toward her, head down.

"There, there, Brother, I was just coming for you, I've got something to show you in my room. Something you never saw in all your life before. You come along and look."

For an instant Brother's rage struggled with his longing for solace and support. Then he put his hand in Granny's and went, still sobbing, down the hall.

"I know you'll like him. He is for you. Your Mother bought him for you and sent me to bring you to look at him. His name is Rowdy."

"Granny, is it a dog? Is it mine? A real live dog? It isn't for Sister, is it?"

"No. Your mother bought him for you. Here she is holding him for you. Go hug them both."

Sister had been assuming a holier-than-thou attitude for some weeks back. Mother had found it hard to cope with, for goodness cannot be denied, even when it is ostentatious and bitter in its heart. Brother had begun to feel that nobody loved him, that he was alone to fight the world. Mother and Father and the dog were their solution. If we give him what he wants so much, if he has someone he knows loves him as Rowdy will do, he can

Dix Says Wives Should Try To Entertain Their Mates

BY DOROTHY DIX

Every wife should be her husband's playmate. The people of whom we are most fond, those whom we enjoy most and who are most necessary to us are those who add to our pleasure; who make life gay for us and who keep us pepped up and amused. This is a tip that all wives would be wise to take.

Unfortunately, few women feel that entertaining their husbands is a part of their life's duties, and that is why so many men put on their hats as soon as they have had dinner and fare forth in search of some livelier diversion than they find at their own firesides. For the Tired Business Man is no myth. He is a real person whose day's work leaves his nerves fretted to fiddle strings and he craves something to relieve the tension, something to make him laugh and forget his troubles.

But he seldom finds this at home. His wife meets him at the door with a budget of bad news. The rent is due, the coal is out. Good-bye to his pet pipe. The teacher has written a note about how Johnny is failing behind in his studies. Aunt Sally is coming for a long visit. And so on and so on. Doubtless it is all true and the wife has had her hard day also, but it is the result and not the formula we are considering, and no one will contend that any man can pass an agreeable evening listening to his wife croon the blues.

Women are always complaining that their husbands won't take them stepping out of evenings, but the reason they don't is because the wife is so often a wet blanket who takes all of the starch out of any occasion. She may have picked out the show or the movie herself, but she blames it on her husband if she doesn't like it, and doesn't understand why he dragged her to see a thing like that. The seats never please her and she tells him that, of course, he would always let her body put the big moment of a play by demanding to know if he thinks the baby has got uncovered, or if the house has caught on fire. If they go to a restaurant she spoils the

Life in Ancient Egypt

VII—WHY MUMMIES WERE MADE

Why did the Egyptians make mummies?

This question was asked of me by a boy who appears to be much interested in the customs of the people of ancient Egypt. Indeed, it is a good question—for we often hear of mummies, and seldom of the reason why the custom of making mummies grew.

ent time. The common people, on the other hand, had little to pay. Their bodies could be expected to last for only a few months, so they looked forward to only a short life in the afterworld.

The troubles were supposed to look like the persons in life. Early teaching declared that they could eat just as do living beings, and that they remained near their mummies.

To feed the doubles, food was left in the tombs. Several of the kings went so far as to set aside the income from certain taxes for the care and feeding of their doubles. One king left a will that the taxes from 11 towns should be used for his double. Another set aside the income from 12 towns for the same purpose. Temples were frequently built beside the tombs, in order that the priests should be near-by to care for the doubles. We may guess that the priests kept the food-offerings from going to waste.

In later centuries, a new and clever way was invented to care for the feeding of the doubles. Pictures of fruit and grain were placed inside the tombs. Such sketches were supposed to take the place of real food. To keep up the supply year after year, pictures of men sowing grain, caring for it in the fields, reaping and threshing, were placed near, or inside, the coffins. Largely because of that strange custom, which has saved the pictures for us to look at, we know about the ways of the Egyptians three or four thousand years ago.

Accent Good Points and Forget Bad

BY ELSIE PIERCE

You've heard it before. It's one of the fundamental rules of beauty lore: accent your good points, and forget the others — point up the positive and the negative will be less obvious.

All that is fine, so far as it goes. But, we can take it a step farther. We can also transform some of the poor and make it "good."

One should have a definite sense of values, an idea of the beauty faults that can be corrected and those that should be forgotten. Those in the latter category are the beauty flaws you can't do much about. For instance, a slight hump on the nose can be overlooked. One can forget about it, blissfully, beautifully. One can, with clever use of makeup create such an optical illusion that others forget about it, too. It can be corrected, of course, by plastic surgery if it is important enough to one's happiness and if one can afford the delicate operation — only an expert should be trusted to do this work and an expert's fee cannot be cheap. But, one can easily no through life without being too self-conscious about it.

On the other hand, straight, stringy hair carried around for more than a few months after illness or sudden shock is inexcusable.

A scar, or birthmark, can, if a scar, burn, or birthmark can be cleverly covered with a special preparation on the market for the purpose. But blemishes that are caused by too little water or too much fat and sweets in the diet — they're something else again. In other words, we should not conceal what we can heal, we should not cover up what we can correct.

And there are some things we should not give up without the proverbial "try, try again." Every woman, for example, should know at least the fundamentals of make-up. Don't say with a shrug of the shoulder, "I just don't know how to put on make-up." I can't get that lipstick on straight; I can't blend the rouge edges, they stick out like sore thumbs." Practice and persistence make for perfection. There are certain good looks gains that every woman can make.

My bulletin on Make-up and How to Make the Most of It may be had for a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope.

(Copyright, 1938)

Just watch the ordinary couples at any place of amusement and you will notice that while the unmarried women are working like coal-heavers to entertain their dates and are at least pretending to have a good time, nine out of ten of the wives are making no effort whatever to amuse their husbands and are not disguising the fact that they are bored stiff. Mighty few men feel that it is worth while spending their money on a killjoy, who explains why so many wives are left at home when their husbands feel the need of a little recreation.

Wives should be their husbands' press agents. This is for their own good as well as the husbands' because little as women realize it, they write their husbands' biographies. Many a wife ruins her husband's chances in his business or profession by her whining and complaining that, of course, she can't have a new car because John just doesn't seem to know how to get along and make money, or that no body sends for Tom when they get sick. Many a woman, just because she enjoys being pilled and posed as a martyr, will whine and the reputation of being a libel on a drunkard, when all that he has done is to be polite to an old school friend or drink a cocktail.

Many a man is advertised into success by his wife's discreet bragging. Half the time the reason we buy a new car is because of a man and Dr. Smith such a great doctor is because their wives have told us so.

Finally, every wife should be a mother to her husband. No man ever entirely grows up. Always somewhere there is the little boy in him that wants his wife to treat him just as his mother did. No matter how great and famous he is, or how many other men he rules, he wants his wife to make a fuss over him, chuck him under the chin, talk baby talk to him and tell him he is Mother's itty, bitty boy and the bootifulst fng in the world.

He may have his chest covered with medals for bravery, but he wants his wife to hold his hand and think he is going to die every time he is sick. He wants his wife to understand that every little boy has to play hooky every now and then, and when he does he wants her to treat him as Mother did—spank him and kiss him and forget all about it. Every woman has to be many women to be a good wife.

My Neighbor Says—

To remove road tar stains from wash fabrics scrape off all that is loose, then rub over with salad oil or melted lard and let stand for 24 hours. Wash in warm soapsuds.

An omelet in which six eggs are used will be much lighter if three fourths of a teaspoon of cream of tartar is used in preparing it.

To make a gelatin dessert in layers divide the jelly in three portions and put one portion in the bottom of the mold. When firm decorate, if desired, with candied cherries and cover with a second portion. Beaten until light. When that is firm, cover with a layer of plain jelly. Fold, chill, cut in slices and serve. The different layers may be colored pink and green.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

BY EMILY POST

"AT HOME" PARTY

Dear Mrs. Post: At an "open house" where people are coming and going constantly, must place be provided for them to take off their coats?

Answer: One should always have a place where men leave their coats and hats, and somewhere else where women leave their wraps if they want to. At a New Year's day afternoon "at home," for example, where people stay perhaps only a few moments at each house, somewhere to lay the women's wraps is not so important. But there is nothing for a man to do except to carry his hat in his hand and wear his overcoat if no place be provided where he can leave them. Women seem quite all right in their coats, but a man in a coat at a party would certainly be a novelty.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is R.S.V.P. properly included on visiting card invitations to parties of very general nature? I never thought so but just received one asking for an answer—and I really don't know how to go about answering it. I don't know the hostess very well but I would be inclined to telephone her.

Answer: R.S.V.P. is put on all invitations of which the host or hostess would like an answer, and which, without any request for reply, might be considered too impersonal to require an answer. Strictly speaking, such invitations should be answered in the third person on a sheet of note paper, exactly as though a formal invitation had been sent you. For example: "Mrs. John Jones regrets that she is unable to accept Mrs. Smith's kind invitation, etc." or "Mrs. John Jones accepts with pleasure, etc."

KIDDIE-STYLE

Price of book and pattern together twenty-five cents.

Send your order to Appleton Post-Crescent, Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.

On the other hand, if you knew the hostess at all well, you could then write on your visiting card "Accepts with pleasure for the 16th," or else, "So sorry unable to accept kind invitation for 16th." You can, also quite properly, telephone either accepting or regretting. If the telephone is answered by a strange voice you merely say "Mrs. Jones will be very glad to take tea with Mrs. Smith on the 16th," or else say "Mrs. Jones is extremely sorry that she is unable to take tea with Mrs. Smith on the 16th and thank her very much for the invitation."

Dear Mrs. Post: When real fruit happens to be the centerpiece of a table setting, are guests supposed to feel free to help themselves? Many of the buffet tables are set with fruit as the center decoration, rather than flowers.

Answer: At a sit-down lunch or supper, guests are not supposed to help themselves unless a dish is proffered to them, but a buffet table set with fruit or anything else that is edible is supposedly put there to be eaten. As a matter of fact, fruit is not eaten until after the dessert is served. Therefore, the subject of decoration, the centerpiece would not be disturbed until the conclusion of the meal.

Coughs Lead to Consumption

By H. SCHLINTZ of Schlintz Bros. Co.

Almost the first indication of that dreaded malady, consumption, is a cough. Often it is not a severe cough, just a slight hacking that does not seem to mean much as a symptom.

Medical science has armed itself with weapons against tuberculosis. The fight may be long and serious but it can be won, if the patient gives full co-operation.

The first step of course is to consult a capable practitioner. Any delay makes recovery longer, more doubtful. Never neglect a cough, no matter how slight. It is Nature's first warning.

If the doctor shakes his head over the cough and prescribes a strict regimen of living, such as rest, a well rounded diet, perhaps a drier climate, do not neglect a single word of his advice.

Along with his advice, he will prescribe medicines designed to assist your recovery. Take that prescription to an experienced pharmacist.

Stephan Hero Presents Flawless Performance in Artist Series Concert

BY NELL CHAMBERLAIN
PROVING his right to take his place among the top-ranking stars of the music firmament, Stephan Hero, youthful violinist, earned the acclaim of his audience when he gave a flawless performance last night at Lawrence Memorial chapel. Ordinary in appearance, he displayed extraordinary technique with his instrument in a program which was uncompromisingly heavy, containing as it did a concerto and a sonata.

Hero's easy and graceful posture while playing indicated a complete lack of self-consciousness and absolute mastery of the violin. The flexibility yet firmness of the wrist and fingers made for beauty of movement as well as smooth-flowing sound. His hands showed strength and sensitivity.

No showman is Stephan Hero, but he lets his music speak for him and express what he has to give to his audience. Choosing for his opening number, "Chaconne" by Vivaldi, he went from that into the Mendelssohn concerto which demonstrated especially fine fingering, expert bowing and masterly technique

Eastern Star Will Install New Officers

INSTALLATION of officers will take place at the meeting of Fidelity chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Wednesday night at the Masonic temple. A 6:30 dinner will precede the ceremony.

St. Matthew Church Debt Reduction Is Reported at Meeting

The church debt of St. Matthew Lutheran congregation was reduced $650 during the last year, according to the financial report given at the annual meeting of the congregation last night at the church. The present church debt is $23,250.

In his annual report, the Rev. Philip Froehke, pastor, stated that 20 children were baptized, 27 persons confirmed, 11 marriages were performed and five funerals took place in the parish in 1937. The church has 522 communicant members and 177 voting members. Twenty-four voting members were received into the church last year, the pastor stated. The school teacher's report pointed out that 36 children are enrolled in St. Matthew school this term.

Other reports were given by the financial secretary, treasurer, bond treasurer, Sunday school treasurer and St. Matthew Monthly treasurer. Six young members were received at the meeting last night and plans were made for the Lenten program. Oscar Radtke, new president of the congregation, conducted the meeting.

Alumnae of Sorority to Fete Pledges

PLANS for a tea Feb. 12 at Hamar House, honoring patronesses and pledges of their sorority, were made by alumnae of Alpha Chi Omega sorority at their monthly meeting last night. It was a 7:30 dessert meeting, held in the newly redecorated, modernistic Alpha Chi Omega chapter rooms at the Pan-Hellenic house.

The alumnae social program through June was outlined at the business session. Arrangements for the tea Feb. 12 will be made by Mrs. Randall Swanson, social chairman, assisted by all members of the alumnae club. The next regular meeting of the group will be Feb. 14 at Mrs. Howard Crabb's home on W. Commercial street, with Miss Ruth Weinkauff and Miss Ruth McKenna as assistant hostesses.

Bridge was played after last night's business meeting. Mrs. Randall Swanson and Miss Marcella Buesing scoring high at contract. Miss Ruth Parkinson and Mrs. Wilmer Krueger were hostesses. A new member of the local alumnae group is Mrs. J. W. Robson, wife of the new professor of philosophy at Lawrence college.

Mrs. Harlow Roate, Campbellsport and Miss Hilma Boettcher were guests at the meeting of Sigma Alpha Iota alumnae Monday night at the home of Mrs. A. A. Krabbe, 412 W. Fifth street. Court whist was played at three tables and prizes were won by Mrs. Roate and Mrs. Bert Ashman. The next meeting will be in the nature of a Valentine costume party Feb. 7 at the home of Mrs. H. K. Pratt, 122 N. Lawe street.

Mrs. Nancy Thomas was hostess to the Delta Gamma alumnae group at its monthly supper meeting Monday night at her home on S. Oak street. At the business session the group discussed plans for the party it will give Feb. 14 for the active chapter at Lawrence college. Mrs. Donald White is chairman of the committee in charge.

Officers will be elected by the Sunshine club of the Women's Relief corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, when it meets at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lydia Bauer, 509 N. Meade street. The women have been requested to bring needles, thimbles and thread for sewing. Mrs. Bauer will be assisted as hostess by Mrs. Agnes Haefelbecker.

Town and Gown club will have its first meeting since before the holidays Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rex Wells, 808 E. North street. The club will continue its study of English drama with a discussion of George Bernard Shaw and John Galsworthy by Miss De Jonge.

FORD COKE CLEANLINESS
IS ONE LUXURY I'LL NEVER BE WITHOUT!

Ford Coke contains less than 1/25 the smoke and soot-making elements of un-coked coal

• Sure it's a luxury. Yet Ford Coke is also inexpensive. It's the most economical clean fuel.

Ford Coke is clean to burn, clean to handle. It is screened and rescreened before you get it.

Ford Coke is quick-burning and even-burning. It gives lots of heat, requires few tendings. Light in weight. Easy to handle. Few ashes to dispose of.

You'll like the dependability—the uniformity—of Ford Coke. Manufactured by the Ford Motor Company, it is scientifically made to produce the same high-quality coke, month in and month out.

There's a special size of Ford Coke to suit your needs. No change is necessary in your furnace. Let our representative make his recommendations for your pleasanter, happier, cleaner Ford Coke heat.

MADISON—(P)—Wisconsin benefited from the new speed-up basketball rules against mediocre opposition last night and ran up a 50 to 27 score in defeating the University of Chicago before about 7,500 spectators.

It was the largest score a Wisconsin team has made since the field house was dedicated eight years ago. Coach Harold Foster said, and the victory kept the Badgers in the thick of the Big Ten title race. Wisconsin has won two games and lost one.

The Badger squad will go to Lafayette Saturday to meet the high scoring Purdue quintet, which beat Chicago last Saturday 50 to 34 while Wisconsin was defeating Minnesota 55 to 28. Purdue dropped a 51 to 43 decision to Illinois last night.

With Charles Jones, center, and George Rooney and Howard Powell, forwards, finding the range on field goals from the outset, Wisconsin took a commanding 29 to 13 lead against Chicago's ranky five at the half-way point. Powell put the Badgers ahead with a short pot shot in the first minute and the lead never changed hands.

Jones led the scoring with 14 points on six field goals and two free throws and snatched a fair share of the rebounds from the grasp of Chicago's towering center, Paul Amundson. Rooney and Powell each contributed 12 points, and the Badgers' defense for quick toss-ups under the basket.

Although the veteran guard, Lee Mitchell, remained on the bench most of the game, the back court duties were handled smoothly by Mannie Frey and Ernie Davis. Frey made 8 points and Davis 2.

Neither team had an edge on free throws, Chicago making 7 on 14 attempts, while Wisconsin made 8 on 15 chances.

Ponds Regain Top In Bowling Wheel
Win Two in Roll-Off of Famous Match With Post-Crescent

Pond Sport bowling team went out in front in the Industrial Bowling league at the Arcade alleys last night when they won two games from the Post-Crescent in the play-off of the famous "postponed" game of several weeks ago. Formerly the Ponds and Tuttle were tied for first.

If you remember correctly, the Ponds postponed the game during the holiday season with the wrong team. The P.C. showed up and rolled and claimed three wins. Then the Ponds got on their best talking suits and finally convinced the P.C. that in the best interest of something the games should be rolled over. Finally the Newspaper boys gave in and look what they got.

To make matters a little worse, the Ponds used "Pat" Coffey in their lineup replacing Charley Pond who was out of the city. And while Tut didn't do so well in the first game he bloomed in the second and third.

May Increase Weight Limits for Jockeys

Coral Gables, Fla.—(P)—The National Association of State Racing Commissioners convention expected to meet here today has a committee suggestion today that thoroughbred weight assignments be increased to lengthen the average jockey's riding life.

Edwin J. Brown of Seattle, Wash., association president, told the convention yesterday the present American system practically eliminates a majority of the good riders just as they reach maturity.

Brown termed the weights "ridiculously low."

A committee headed by Herbert Bayard, Scribe of New York, canvassed opinions of horsemen, who were believed to be almost unanimously in favor of increasing the imposts.

Michigan May be Team to Beat in Big Ten Circuit

Northwestern Downs Iowa For Third Consecutive Victory

BY EARL HILLIGAN
CHICAGO—(P)—It's been a long time since Michigan "ruled the West" in football, but there's no mistaking the Wolverines' determination to go places in basketball this winter.

While all other clubs, Northwestern excepted, have been upsetting one another to make the current Big Ten court campaign a mad scramble from the start, Michigan has won two games. Both victories were achieved without extra trouble, and the Wolverines, in addition to a smooth offense, presented a defense which has been remarkably consistent.

Michigan, previously victorious over Illinois, trounced Ohio State 38 to 28 last night. The Wolverines again won with a last-half spurt. They trailed 20-18 at the intermission.

Win Third Tilt
Northwestern's Wildcats clung to first place by winning a third straight game, this one 36 to 28 over Iowa. Northwestern's attack was led by Jake Nagode, who bagged 11 points, and the Hawkeyes, unable to find the hoop consistently, had little chance after the first few minutes.

Illinois served notice it cannot be counted out of a chance to retain its half-share of the title. The Illini upset Purdue's highly rated team, 51 to 43, before more than 7,000 fans. The game was extremely rough, 36 fouls being called. Illinois, which had lost its first two starts, led almost from the start and had a 29 to 13 edge at the half.

Unable to get its offense clicking, Minnesota dropped a 39 to 28 decision to Indiana. It was a second straight defeat for the Gophers, who shared last season's crown with Illinois. The Hoosiers, in winning a second game in three starts, dominated play under the hoops and two guards, Ernest Anderson and Marvin Huffman, paced the attack with 14 and 11 points, respectively.

Wisconsin had little trouble downing Chicago 50 to 27 for a record of two wins and one loss. The Badgers led 29 to 13 at the half and presented a defense which made the Maroons shoot from long range.

Wauapaca Hockey Team Defeated by 7-1 Score
Wauapaca—Wauapaca's newly formed hockey club lost a 7 to 1 decision to the Marshfield team Sunday night before a fair sized crowd. The local team, with its first attempt at organized hockey, showed flashes of good play but is in need of experience.

The next game will be in Wauapaca tonight when Appleton plays Wauapaca. On Sunday Wauapaca will play Oshkosh at Oshkosh.

The lineups:
Wauapaca
R. Rayhorn Goal
H. Buck L.D.
D. Hetzel R.D.
E. Pope C.
A. Hewitt R.W.
A. Danielson L.W.
Alternates: Wauapaca—R. Hall, P. Damon, C. Bowerson, K. Buck; Marshfield—Reidel, Davis, R. Becker.

Company D Trips Town
Taxi Cagers, 38 to 20
Norman Kneip garnered seven field goals and led Company D cagers to a 38 to 20 victory over the Town Taxis last night at Armory.

Bauers snared six buckets and a free throw for the Soldiers and Persky paced the losers with three field goals. Green and Hiebel starred on defense for Company D.

The company D squad will travel to Kimberly Thursday to take part in the preliminary to the Kimberly-Chilton game. Next Monday the team will play Freedom at the Armory and Tuesday will meet Black Creek in the County league.

Baseball's Big Money Makes It Hard to Sign Promising Youths

T. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(P)—Johnny Nee, ace baseball scout of the world champion New York Yankees, paused in his hunt for diamond talent today to say that big money has made the youngsters harder to sign.

"Baseball's big money has fired the youngsters' imagination," he said. "The boys who have talent don't ask for the opportunity to hook up with a big time organization any more; what they want to know is this:

"How much will I get?"

"Makes It Tough"

"The first thing they do is hire a manager or agent. I don't blame them for trying to get as much money as they can, but it certainly makes it tough on us."

In the old days a visit of a big league scout to a minor league club to look over the town favorite called for a community holiday with all the townfolk gathered in the stands to cheer their hero.

Today, Nee said, as soon as a budding star begins to bloom most of the stands are filled with official and unofficial scouts eager to sign the player if he shows anything like big time stuff.

There was a time, Nee recalls, when the manager of a minor league club would invite a scout to look over, at his convenience, a player considered to have the stuff it takes to make a major leaguer.

Have to Bid

"Those days are gone," moaned Johnny. "Now the chamber of commerce or a high school coach will tell you they have a chap with what it takes but you'll have to bid, because every club in the circuit is wise to him."

The only way to hit virgin territory now, explained Nee, is to hunt the grade and junior high school sandlots.

Nee, who found such great stars as Johnny Allen, the major leagues' leading twirler last season, and Bill Dickey, considered one of the game's greatest backstops, must get up early and go to bed late in order to keep up with the latest trends of "juvy hunting."

"If you don't, it is just too bad," he explained. "I had a prospect out for breakfast last summer; a rival scout had him out for supper; another competitor took him to a midnight show, and the guy that finally landed him took his mother-in-law to a clam bake."

THE WEEK'S GAMES
Sunday—Company D 39, Seymour 38 (overtime).
Tuesday—Little Chute at Kaukauna K. of C. (to be played at 7:15 in St. John gym).
Tuesday—Hortonville at Black Creek.
Wednesday—New London at Town Taxis (Y. M. C. A.).

THE LITTLE CHUTE-KAUKAUNA GAME, an Outagamie County league battle, will go on the boards at 7:15. Originally scheduled for Legion hall, it has been moved to the gymnasium because of the rivalry between the teams and because of the desire to play under perfect conditions.

The contest is to be something of a village feud for the Kaukauna team shows three Little Chute youths, Jack and Bob Lamers and Paul Jansen, and they'll have their supporters just as the Legion cagers will have theirs.

A strong defense is being worked up by the Legion for Jack Lamers, who has been the biggest offensive threat of the invaders.

Highs Meet St. Norbert
The other big game, at 8:15 this evening, will bring together St. John Catholic High school and St. Norbert high of West DePere with the Little Chute cagers aiming to get back into the Catholic conference win column.

St. John has won two games and lost one while the West DePere team has won one and lost one.

Rivalry between St. John and St. Norbert probably is the keenest of any two conference schools and there have been times when the sports teams have almost forgotten the sport angle and pitched in for a merry battle.

St. John goes into tonight's game as something of an underdog because of the poor showing last Friday against Menasha St. Mary's. Supporters of the team are hoping the showing against the Zephyrs was just an off night and that the Hollanders will be back in winning stride this evening.

St. Norbert will depend on three veterans and two sophomores to carry it through. Vanden Busch, forward, DeBruin, center, and Hochrein, guard, all are seniors, while Collins, forward and Lindauer, guard, are sophomores.

Catholic conference standings:
St. Mary, Menasha 1 0 1.000
St. Mary, Oshkosh 3 1 .750
St. John, Little Chute 2 1 .667
St. Norbert, DePere 1 1 .500
St. Peter, Oshkosh 0 3 .000

Oshkosh All-Stars Lose to Whittings
Milwaukee—(P)—The Whiting (Ind.) All-Americans combined superior speed and long distance shooting to defeat the Oshkosh All-Stars, 29 to 26, in an overtime contest before 3,500 fans at the auditorium last night.

Oshkosh led through most of the game only to slow up as the game went into overtime. The Whiting, behind in the closing minutes, the All-Stars staged off immediate defeat when Vandermeulen, former Carroll college ace, dropped in a bucket to tie the score. A mid-court basket by Gunning, Whiting star, put the Indiana club out in front in the overtime session.

Appleton Jaces Lose to Oshkosh

Gruett Rolls 208, 575, Boughton 207, 514 For Local Club

The Oshkosh jaces won two matches from the Appleton club Sunday at Elks alleys.

In the first match, William Gruett had games of 208 and 200, following with a 575 series, but the Appleton leggers lost three straight. Stratz with a 202 and 577 series and Krumrich with a 223 game were Oshkosh standouts.

Fred Boughton rolled games of 207 and 201, finishing with a 514 series, to head the local club in the other match which Oshkosh won two games to one. Hankey with

Begin Volleyball Meet For Boys at High School

A home room volleyball tournament for boys was started today at Appleton High school under the direction of William Blum, assistant physical education instructor. The championship home room team will meet a faculty team for the school title at the close of the regular schedule. Captains of home room teams are Hal Bertsch, Roy Brash, Marvin Filz, John Hamner, Donald Heinritz, Robert Koenke, Glen Ohlrogge, Carlton Powers, James Sherry and James Weisgerber.

Games of 212 and 204 and a 571 series was high for the winners.

First match:
Oshkosh (3) 888 834 939-2641
Appleton (0) 886 827 839-2532

Second match:
Oshkosh (2) 889 836 754-2459
Appleton (1) 885 825 736-2396

BOXING

Chicago—Jackie Wilson, 127, Pittsburgh, drew with Leo Rodak, 126, Chicago, (10); Bobby McIntire, 131, Detroit, outpointed George Vanderhayden, 135, South Bend, Ind., (5).

Louisville, Ky.—(P)—Buddy Knox, 179, Dayton, Ohio, knocked out Young Anderson, 184, Flint, Mich., (3); Cecil Powell, 134, Frankfort, Ky., outpointed Ted Tello, 138, Louisville, (8).

Nashville, Tenn.—John Henry Lewis, 175, Nashville, light heavyweight champion, stopped Leonard Neblett, 183, Clarksville, Tenn., (8).

Hot Springs, Ark.—Sol Levinson, 134, Denver, Colo., outpointed Ted Garcia, 135, Colorado, (10); Tommy Jordan, 138, Colorado, stopped Mike Montoya, 155, Mexico City, (2).

Denney Cautions Squad About Over-Confidence

FROTH TO PLAY
Yearlings Show at 7 O'clock; Varsity Tilt at 8:15

LAWRENCE college basketball team will make its second start in the Midwest conference play and its first start against Wisconsin college teams this evening at Alexander gymnasium when it meets Ripon college. During the next week the Vikes meet all of their greatest rivals—Ripon here tonight, Carroll there on Saturday, and Beloit here on Jan. 18.

Tonight's program will open at 7 o'clock with the freshmen teams from the two schools performing and the varsity game will go on the boards about 8:15.

Lawrence held an easy workout last evening as Coach A. C. Denney reviewed the errors of the Knox game last Friday night and cautioned about over-confidence. Knox went down to Ripon after its defeat here and came away winner by a 44 to 33 score.

Coach Denney appreciates that his team wasn't doped to win last Friday's game and because he isn't sure whether the Vikes have the stuff or were just "on," he's not ready to concede anything against Ripon. If the Vikes get past the Redmen and do well against Carroll, Denney may be willing to admit the squad is severe.

Several Good Shots

There are followers of the Vikes who may feel they were lucky on some of their shots but that's one point where Denney will argue. Wallie Cape's best shot is a one-handed flip at the hoop and in practices he seldom misses. Likewise that one-handed toss that Cliff Burton gets off.

Faleide always has been blessed with a knack for getting around and through opposing defenses and is liable to dump a bucket from anywhere. Buesing's shooting has improved with every start which leaves Masterson as the only question. He looked like a find against Knox and it's possible that he's finally started playing ball with the finesse that marked his high school career.

Coach Red Martin's Ripon five is built around six lettermen who haven't done so well shooting. They defeated Mission college and Milton in early games and then bowed in their first Midwest start to Knox Saturday night.

Dale Balliet and Harry Evans, both standing 6 feet, are the two center candidates. Harry Mathos, stocky Fond du Lac youth, performs at a guard while Captain George Kreik, another 6-footer, is a forward. Ralph Ponik, a veteran performer, shows at a guard while Floyd Johnson is listed as a center or forward. Rolfe Lewis, a sophomore, also has been seeing duty this season. He's a guard.

CURLING SCHEDULE
Wauapaca—The curling schedule for the week beginning Monday, Jan. 10, follows: Holst versus Nelson; Christofferson versus Holly; Tuesday, Cristy versus Mortenson; Wilcox versus Smith; Wednesday, Nelson versus Yorkson; Holly versus Peterson; Thursday, Mortenson versus Wilcox; Friday, Peterson versus Holst; Yorkson versus Cristy. Postponed games are Nelson versus Wilcox; Yorkson versus Smith.

Two Big Cage Games at Little Chute Tonight

ST. JOHN CAGERS WILL TRY TO REGAIN WINNING STRIDE TONIGHT

St. John Catholic High school cagers will try to get back into the win column in the Fox Valley Catholic conference this evening when they play the St. Norbert High school team at St. John gymnasium. Yesterday afternoon a photographer happened upon the St. John team and while the picture snapper stood around in an overcoat, galoshes and gloves, the boys shivered while they lined up and then tried to look natural as Roger Koehn attempted a free throw. ## Thomson Strokes To $2,500 Purse; Sets New Record

First Major Tournament Jimmy Has Won in This Country

LOS ANGELES—(P)—The roving band of professional golfers, led by Jimmy Thomson, winner of the $7,500 Los Angeles open, turned toward Del Mar by the Sea today and Bing Crosby's $3,000 tournament.

The event limited to 75 professionals and 75 amateurs, will be held Saturday and Sunday.

Thomson, the siege gun of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa., blasted himself into the lead in the first round of the open and kept on firing until he finished. It was the first major tournament he had ever won in this country.

Thomson presented a 72-hole card of 65-66-74-68—273 to win the big purse of $2,100. It was his first "big money" since he collected $5,000 in the Melbourne Centenary open in Australia several years ago.

Taming his famed long shots to fit the comparative shortness of the Woodrow Wilson course, Thomson lowered the tournament record set by Harry Cooper last year at 274.

In second place, four strokes back, was Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., who eked out a close victory over Thomson two weeks ago in the Miami-Biltmore tournament. Revolta won $1,260. Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., and Lawson Little, San Francisco, collected $840 apiece with 278s.

Four leading contenders tied with 279 and collected $350 each. They were Horton Smith, Chicago, and George Von Elm, Los Angeles, both of whom pulled in with 68's, Lloyd Mangrum, Dayton, O., and Willie Goggin, San Francisco.

Best amateur was Bruce McCormick, Los Angeles fireman and winner of the national public links championship at San Francisco last summer. He took a last round 69 for 281, nine strokes ahead of the next low amateur.

Amy Hammen Named St. John Illi Coach
Little Chute—Amy Hammen, who attended Jordan college for two seasons, has accepted a coaching position at St. John Catholic High school here, it has been announced. He will start with the freshman basketball team and assist the Red James Geyer with the varsity. In the fall he is expected to assist Greg Harjes as football coach. Hammen competed in football and basketball at St. John for four seasons.

Chaff 'n Chatter

By Gordon B. McIntyre

JUST as if seeing four basketball games in five days wasn't enough I went down to Oshkosh with Art Denney last Saturday evening and watched the All-Stars play the South Bend Bendix team. Art was one of the referees and I went along to talk him out of trouble if he got into it. Ahem.

The Stars didn't have much trouble with the invaders and won in a walk although they trailed during the first half. The Bendix team had a wee forward who was introduced as Young of Purdue but who never saw the inside of a Purdue hall. However, he was a basketball player and so small and fast he almost crawled between the legs of the big fellows on Lon Darling's team.

Witask turned in a play during the evening that was a sensation on his part—and not such good ball on the part of some of his mates. Her man dribbled up and rimmed a basket for the Stars, turned and dashed down the floor and caught up with Bendix player who had taken a long pass from a mate and went up on the attempted shot along with the invader. He fouled him but I believe he missed the basket. It was a sensational bit of work by Witask—like catching a forward pass you've thrown—but it indicated some of the Stars were lax in their guarding.

The Stars do considerable ribbing among themselves during a game. For instance, when Mullen got a basket, his first in several games, he walked over to the bench to apprise his mates of the feat. They've been calling him "Mullen 0-0-0" for the last several games.

Remember Bill Fallon the Wisconsin trainer? He lost his job during the Spears-Meanwell rumpus. And he went out to California with Sub Allison and trained the Rose bowl champions. Sort of kicked upstairs, what?

The Green Bay Press-Gazette's golden gloves boxing tournament will be held Feb. 14, 15 and 22.

Two hundred and thirty-four Appleton bowlers entered in that $34,000 Red Crown bowling sweepstakes. The first round was for qualifying purposes and the second for the championship stakes, will be run starting Jan. 24.

Wisconsin's cage win over Minnesota Saturday night sort of bears out the claim that the Badgers will be a championship team on some nights and perhaps it'll take only a few more days to prove further

PLAY in the Old Boys basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. not underway with American division teams playing Saturday afternoon and National division squads clashing last night.

Buckeyes won over Red Wings in the initial American league tilt by a 21 to 16 score after trailing throughout the first half. Larson, Gertsch and Weissenberg were the mainstays for the winners while Glen Scherke, Duane Langdon and Don Jones played the best games for the losers.

Post Hi-Y was required to forfeit to Fords when only four men appeared. Vikings sailed over troubled waters to a 19 to 17 overtime victory against Blue Birds. The Blue Birds led for three quarters but the Vikings knotted the count at 15 all and won the game when Stew Cooper and Chuck Kiefer dropped in successive baskets in the overtime period and Bob Schroeder sunk one for the losers.

In a game filled with plenty of action, the Badgers eked out a 25 to 21 victory over the strong Hawks in a National league tilt. Favored to win by a topheavy score, the Badgers were on the losing end of a 17 to 14 score at the end of the third quarter. DeDecker and Cape strident pointing from the field in the final frame to win the tilt.

Black Hawks constantly menaced the Wildcats but lacked a scoring punch and lost, 17 to 11. Bob Koehneke was the high scorer with three baskets for six points and Hoepfner led the losers with six points on three buckets.

Mercury walked away with the strong Panthers, 33 to 13. The game showed Kike Powers and Ben Blacher to be guards of the first order and dangerous scorers.

A VIKING SHARPSHOOTER

Lawrence college basketball team's sensational win over Knox Friday evening featured, among other things, the shooting of Wallie Cape, above. He is a sophomore whose home originally was in Racine but who now is a full-fledged resident of Appleton. Cape's best shot is a one-handed flip at the hoop that sends a thrill down Viking backs. ## Davis Cup Winners Slated to Defend Trophy This Year

1937 Team Expected to Carry Burden of 1938 Tennis Campaign

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—It's a long way from January to the midsummer afternoon when the United States will defend the Davis cup for the first time since Rene Lacoste and Henri Cochet of France took it away from Germany in 1927, but the indications are that last year's triumphant players will get the task of defending the trophy.

There's no doubt that Don Budge will be the No. 1 man. Bryan (Bitty) Grant, who swore he'd never try it again after the licks he took in the 1937 inter-zone finals, already has tossed his hat in the ring. The other candidates are Frankie Parker, who replaced Grant as the second singles player against England; Bobby Riggs, who didn't make the team last year but won the national No. 2 ranking; Gene Mako, Budge's doubles partner; and Wayne Sabin, the versatile player who went to England last summer as the team's "sparring partner."

Worry Over Injury
The winter tour of Australia which Budge and Mako got as a reward for their efforts has caused some worry in tennis circles as has Budge's shoulder injury, but according to word recently received by Walter Pale, last year's Davis cup captain, Don isn't bothered about either.

"My shoulder has healed completely and once again I'm ready to go," Budge wrote. "I'm surprised at how well I'm playing, for me, after the accident and two months rest. I can hardly wait until we defend the cup."

While Budge might have profited by a winter's rest in the opinion of many, the results of his matches indicate he hasn't been taking the antipodean tour any too seriously. He has been beaten twice by Germany's Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, once drawing protests because of his indifferent attitude.

Riggs To Make Bid
Then, too, there's the fact that Von Cramm and Honner Henkel of Germany and the Australian stars all are competing through the winter and they're the ones expected to come through to the interzone final and fight it out for the right to challenge the United States.

In addition Pale, if he again captains the team, plans to limit the California carrot-top's summer tournament play just to make sure he won't be stale when the cup matches come around.

Grant, after whipping Riggs Sunday in the Miami-Biltmore tournament final, announced he was going to rest a while to avoid the possibility of staleness, which seems to indicate that he, too, has his eye on the late-summer doings. Riggs also is out to show the tennis solons he can't be overlooked this year.

Parker can't be counted out, however, for he has had valuable experience in international play that Riggs lacks and that may make a great deal of difference in the challenge round.

Amherst Forward Tops Loop Scoring

But Manawa Has Made 75 Points in Central Wis. Cage League

Man—Although his team is at the bottom of Central Wisconsin league standings, Allen, Amherst forward, is leading the individual scoring with 26 points. Heriz of Weyauwega is a close second with 25 points.

Manawa, leading the circuit with three wins, has the highest team score with 75 points and Amherst is second with 66 points.

Boys of Amherst has an unusual record of 12 personal fouls for three games.

By O. Warren Smith
I REMEMBER when I was a lad, a brother and I spent a winter in a little log cabin on the shore of a Wisconsin lake. Obviously we were cutting wood, but actually we were rabbit hunting, fishing through the ice and studying winter birds more than we were making wood. However it was one of the most enjoyable and rewarding winters I ever put in.

Along in February we were treated to a long spell of sub-zero weather, therefore open, a cloud of white steam rising from the surface, imagine my astonishment to see dozens and dozens, literally, of great pike—such "pickers" as we only dreamed about in summer-time—hastening down stream. They were leaving the lake because of lack of air. I saw many a number that would weigh a dozen pounds or more. Yes, I shot one, and we ate it, but that was long, long ago. No good trolling in that lake the next season.

Bullheads and yellow perch were actually shoveled out each recurrent winter. Note I said "shoveled," not "fished." I was just off shore or on the sand-bar, and often as soon as a hole was open bull-heads and perch would crowd into it. The sportsman (?) would begin shoveling out the water, and fish—so creating a suction, and I am not casting too long a line when I say, bushels were taken. I am not so certain it was unsportsmanlike even yet, for had we not taken them as we did, they would have smothered to death. I have seen the shores of such shallow lakes banked with dead fish when the ice went out in the Spring. I remember one shallow lake more recently which was stocked with largemouth bass, and they flourished for a number of years and some of us tried to get permission to remove them to a nearby deep lake, but unsuccessfully. Came a hard winter, and the water froze nearly to the bottom, and the farmers hauled away loads of fish and used them as fertilizer.

No effort should be spared to get air into dead frozen lakes, though generally such work is extremely difficult, for what effect will a dozen or two two-foot holes have on a lake a mile wide? Nevertheless holes can be cut and kept open by the use of poles and straw forced deep down in the water. Efforts have been made to force air into the water with the aid of pumps, with what success I am unable to report. Surely our inventive genius should be adequate to the need. Undoubtedly if holes enough were cut and kept open along shore the fish could be saved. All fish, when air becomes depleted—I should say oxygen—make their way close in shore for relief, perhaps thus increasing the mortality.

The Characters
Nina, ex-debutante, impulsively married David, hoping to end her love for her stepfather. Now she is falling in love with David and disgusted with Richard.
Richard, the suave, handsome stepfather, proposed secret love to Nina.
Honey, Nina's gay, childish mother, is wild about Richard.
David, a bright young auto salesman with a small salary, adores Nina but begins to suspect something.
Gracie, an old girl friend of David, still pursues him.
Chapter 46
Alarm Over Honey
To her amazement, when Nina had pulled herself together enough to enter David's room, she discovered that Gracie had not told him.
"Who was that, sweetheart?" he asked, casually.
And under Gracie's steady stare, she answered: "It was Richard, dear. Honey's out at a bridge party, and he dropped round to take me to lunch."
"Oh—nice of him," said David, Gracie remarked: "Posies, too. A whole coffin load. Some attentive step-papa, I'd say. Free meals . . . flowers . . . Where are they, Nina? Why don't you bring them in to David?"
"I will."
"Nice of him," said David again, and she went to get them.
They weren't posies. They were autumn flowers—in profusion . . . gold, bronzy things, that would have looked lovely against the blue walls, if they hadn't come from Richard.
David, knowing nothing of flowers, held the box to his nose.
"Sorry—can't smell 'em. My cold, I guess."
"Never mind, David . . ." Gracie cut a slice of tomato with slow precision. "They don't smell-so-good . . . anyway."
Her lunch hour would have to be over. Gracie would have to go, eventually. . . . Thinking of this was all that kept Nina going, as she sat with her tray on her lap, and tried to force bits of food down her dry, dry throat.
And Gracie did have to go, after a while, of course—but not without a parting shot. Oh—no . . .
"David, my boy," she told him playfully, "you're a mighty attractive kid—but if I were you I'd keep my eye on that stepfather-in-law of yours. He looks like a combination of the dark Arrow Collar man, and Ronald Colman . . . and no matter how many times Nina may have been cast in the part, she's no Ice Maiden at heart!"
Another gay, teasing laugh. "Dun say a didn't warn y'a . . ."
Nina's Thinking Chair
When Gracie had gone, and Nina came back into the bedroom from clearing up after lunch, David said: "Hey—what's this about ole Richard? Does he make a practice of barging in unexpectedly like this?"
And Nina said, evenly: "Well, no, he hasn't so far," and truthfully: "I certainly hope he doesn't make a habit of it!"
"After all . . . why should he?" Nina tried to interpret his look.
"Gosh, darling, I'm sure I wouldn't know!"
And that seemed to be that, about Richard.
David became involved with a detective story, and the apartment was very still.
The apartment was very still, but Nina's thoughts were whirling round, like the wheels of a busy machine.
Quite deliberately, this time, she went to one of the straight-backed walnut chairs. She seemed to be able to think better there; she always had.
"Nina," she told herself, "you were a fool to imagine you could just slip back into a normal happy life with David, as though nothing had happened . . . to think that you could be disloyal and wicked, and never have anyone suspect. Nina—you thanked the Lord too soon, that day in the kitchen, the past is creeping up on you!" And she didn't mean it flippantly at all.
She began to have a panicky feeling of fright, so she tried very hard to tie herself down to being almost mathematical about her problem.
Those two peculiar telephone calls that David had overheard, and caught her up on—and now Richard and Gracie did have to go, after
